Air U. S. Opposition To Transfer of Possessions SEEKS CONFAB

Move for Early Session Of Pan-American Republics

Washington—(P)—The state department has instructed its representatives in Berlin and Rome to notify the German and Italian governments of United States opposition to transfer of any western hemisphere possessions from one non-American power to another.

Britain, France and the exiled Netherlands government, the nations having possessions in this hemisphere, similarly were notified.

The instructions, which went out Monday and were disclosed today, constituted a warning to all that the United States stood pat on the Monroe doctrine and thus would not countenance any European interference with ownership of lands in the new world.

This government's views, as given to European capitals, were identical with those in a joint resolution pending in congress.

The resolution, now in the senate for ratification of minor house amendments, declares that the United States would not recognize any transfer and would not acquiesce in any attempt to transfer any region of the western hemisphere from one non-American power to another.

Common Interests
If such an attempt to transfer should appear likely, the resolution says the United States would, in addition to other measures, immediately consult with the other American republics to determine what steps to take to safeguard their common interests.

France's suit for peace has raised the present question of the fate of French possessions in this hemisphere—French Guiana, Martinique and Guadeloupe in the West Indies area and St. Pierre and Miquelon off Newfoundland.

The United States also has initiated a formal move for an early session of the Pan-American republics to consider western hemisphere problems growing out of the European war.

Summer Welles, undersecretary of state, disclosed at his press conference today that the 20 other American republics were advised Monday that the United States believed present conditions made an immediate session advisable.

Welles said republics already had been received from 13 of the governments and that he expected to hear from all the others by tomorrow.

The date of the conference, not yet set, is expected to be an early one. Havana was chosen for the next regular meeting of the Pan American conference in October and the United States has advised the other governments that it is agreeable to holding the earlier meeting there also, but Welles said other governments might suggest a different meeting place.

As for the agenda, Welles said it was possible that an economic plan, now under consideration by government officials for the western hemisphere would be among the subjects considered.

Minneapolis Woman Is Fatally Injured

Baraboo, Wis.—(P)—Mrs. Kenneth Getty, 23, of Minneapolis, died today of head injuries suffered in a highway accident nine miles south of here last night.

Her son, Jerome, 4, received facial cuts. Harry Jaffa, of Minneapolis, suffered injured ribs.

Mrs. Jaffa and her two children were unhurt.

Jaffa's car overturned on a curve on Highway 12.

Service Plan Presents New GOP Problem

Ponder Stand on Roosevelt Scheme of Compulsory Training LEWIS SPEAKS

CIO Chief Praises Hoover, Scores Policies of New Deal

Philadelphia—(P)—John L. Lewis, head of the CIO, told the Republican resolutions committee today that labor "had no cause to feel any confidence in the Republican party in recent years because the Republican party, as such, has practically abandoned labor."

Philadelphia—(P)—President Roosevelt's proposal for compulsory national service presented a new problem today for the Republican resolutions committee, already endeavoring to write a platform plank expressing the party's viewpoint on foreign relations.

This and a speech in which John L. Lewis of the CIO spoke praising, and perhaps significantly, of Herbert Hoover, provided the vanguard of next week's national convention with an abundance of discussion.

Glenn Frank, chairman of the committee which wrote a party program last winter, said Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion conformed to the trend of New Deal philosophy.

"The heart of the New Deal," he said, "is in an approach to a conscripted life."

David Ingalls, campaign manager for Senator Taft of Ohio, bluntly asked "Which totalitarian model has he in mind, Russian or German?"

Blaze Destroys Historic Hotel

Loss Is $250,000 as Fire Levels Landmark at Superior

Superior—(P)—The Hotel Superior, a northern Wisconsin landmark for more than 40 years, was destroyed in a spectacular fire last night. Damage was estimated at $250,000, two persons were overcome by smoke and a fireman was injured.

Nine companies, including one from Duluth, fought the fire for more than six hours. The blaze fanned by a high wind, threatened to spread to nearby residences when flames shot high into the air and burning embers fell on roofs.

Firemen succeeded in keeping the blaze from spreading, however. The hotel was in the center of the downtown section.

Firemen rescued several persons from the top floor of the 4-story structure. They carried C. W. Schultz and Edith Gardner Estline from the fourth floor to safety after they were overcome by smoke.

Fire Chief James Sweeney said he believed everyone was out of the building before the walls collapsed.

Fireman Harold Carlson was injured when struck by part of a falling wall. He was treated at a hospital, where it was said his injuries were not critical.

Sweeney said the blaze apparently started in the boiler room. Members of the Wausau baseball team of the Northern league lost all their belongings except their uniforms. They had dressed for a game with Superior, leaving their clothes in hotel rooms. When they returned, the hotel was in flames and they were forced to walk around in spiked shoes and uniforms.

KILLED ON TUG

Green Bay—(P)—Manuel D. McIntyre, 33, was killed on the tug, Rexx yesterday. It was believed that a casting, connected to the tow line of the tug, broke loose and smashed his body against the cabin.

Heil Would 'Crack the Whip,' Says State

Could Operate With 2,600 Less Employees

Madison—(P)—Posing the question of "who ever heard of any state employee doing an honest day's work?" Governor Julius P. Heil said yesterday he would "crack the whip" and "squeeze a little" to hold state expenditures within bounds.

The governor spoke to about 50 independent oil jobbers, members of the Wisconsin Petroleum association, who met here for a district conference.

The governor complained that state employees worked by the clock.

"When that clock strikes 4 or 4:30 you look around and there's not one left," he said. "Why even in my own executive office a girl who writes 8 or 10 letters a day feels overworked. In private industry they write between 50 and 100 letters a day."

"And they all get three weeks' vacation a year, and if they don't

Hitler Is Expected to Drive Hard Bargain With French

Nazis Attempt To Bring About Decisive Blow

Troops Press Ahead To Hasten French Capitulation

Berlin—(P)—The German high command announced tonight that the Lunéville fortress, Toul and Strasbourg had been occupied by German troops.

An announcement from Adolf Hitler's headquarters said: "Lunéville (15 miles southeast of Nancy) and the fortress of Toul have been taken. The German flag is flying from Strasbourg cathedral."

Berlin—Twin Nazi machines—the diplomatic and the military—moved ever more swiftly today to bring about the speedy capitulation of France.

While authorized German sources said half of France is now in Nazi hands and Hitler's troops are still advancing, word came from Bordeaux that the French government has been apprised that "Hitler and Mussolini are ready to receive French representatives for the presentation of the armistice terms."

The Germans so notified the government of Premier Marshal Henri Philippe Pétain through Spanish diplomatic channels.

The great trans-Atlantic shipping port of Cherbourg, France, the important railroad center of Rennes, Brittany, and the manufacturing town of Nancy have fallen before the still-advancing German armies the high command announced today.

French Still Fighting

Uruguayans Urged To Enlist Quickly For War Training

Montevideo—(P)—Uruguay's minister of national defense, General Julio Roldán, appealed today to all Uruguayans to enlist immediately for voluntary military training. He asked women to enroll for possible auxiliary service.

Roldán emphasized that the appeal was not connected with any expected change in the internal order or "aggression" from without, but only to give Uruguayans a chance to prepare themselves to serve their country if the occasion arose.

The appeal was published in the press and broadcast by radio.

Pope Asks Italians To Show Generosity

Vatican City—(P)—Pope Pius, addressing an audience of pilgrims today, appealed to the Italians to be generous.

The pontiff asked his hearers to pray for their country, "asking that its sons be generous in serving him."

He also requested them to pray for the church "which weeps for so many of its sons who are no more and for many of its destroyed temples, its priests prevented from carrying out their ministry, and for innumerable poor souls straying among the ruins of their destroyed folds or in exile, while forces of error and deception are seeking to push them further from their divine pastor."

Probe Sought as Navy Clears Way For Allied Boats

Investigation Asked When Vessels Ordered for U. S. are Delayed

Washington—(P)—The navy disclosed today it had cleared the way for the Electric Boat company of Groton, Conn., to sell to the British 20 high-speed submarine chasers and motor torpedo boats ordered originally for the United States fleet.

The navy department changed its contract with the boat company officials reported, to provide for a delay in delivery of 20 vessels ordered by the navy.

The manufacturing company thus will be able to sell that number of craft to the British.

Some members of the senate naval affairs committee, meanwhile, demanded an investigation of the navy's action.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) announced he would ask that the committee be given full details of the transaction.

Navy spokesmen emphasized to reporters that no ships which had been delivered to the navy and become its property were being released for sale to the allies.

They declared also that deferment of deliveries to this country would result in increasing the Electric company's capacity for production of the high-speed warships.

At the White House Stephen Early, press secretary, said President Roosevelt had approved recommendations of the navy and treasury departments for the transaction inasmuch as torpedoes for the ships could not be ready before late fall.

Both Early and Naval spokesmen declared the United States would be benefited by letting the British get the craft. Benefits will include, they said, not only a plant-expansion obtained without cost to the United States but also the production later on of a boat of improved design firing a standard 21-inch torpedo rather than the 18-inch projectile of the ships made available to the British.

One reporter told Early that Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) of the senate naval committee had said the deal was made "surprisingly."

The secretary declared there was "nothing surreptitious that we know of" about it.

New Viceroy Arrives Secretly in Canada On British Warship

Halifax, N. S.—(P)—Arriving secretly on a British warship, the earl of Athlone, Canada's new viceroy and 66-year-old younger brother of the 60-year-old Queen Mary, landed on Canadian soil here today and immediately hastened to Ottawa to take the oath of governor general.

His post, the equivalent in Canada to King George VI's role in the government of the united kingdom, carries a $50,000-a-year salary, plus $100,000 for expenses, entertainment and travel.

Accompanied by his lady, Princess Alice, the tall, soldierly earl came ashore to a welcome subdued by the war and shorn of the pomp and pageantry of glittering uniforms and 19-gun salutes that marks the reception of a new viceroy in peace time.

War-time restrictions even prevented the warship bearing the vice-regal party from sending a wireless message to tell the exact hour of arrival.

Waves of Nazi Planes Assault British Coast

London—(P)—Britain counted 12 civilians dead and 13 injured today in the wake of an extended German air assault which swept along her east coast in the dark hours before dawn as if in response to defiance flung in the face of Adolf Hitler.

Seven of the raiders were shot down, according to the air ministry, which said that little damage had been done to military objectives.

Two infants and two young girls were among those killed.

The death list originally was 11 but a 6-year-old boy, brother of a girl who was killed, died later in a hospital.

There was no indication of the number of planes in the attack, during which bombs were dropped at three points along the Thames in an apparent attempt to damage crowded shipping and industrial areas.

Approximately four hours elapsed between the time the Nazi warplanes made their appearance and sounding of the all-clear signal.

Waves of Bombers
Five waves of bombers roared over Yorkshire, dropping loads of explosives.

Alarms also were sounded in Lincolnshire, Northamptonshire, Norfolk, Suffolk and Kent. Most of the casualties occurred in one locality, where bombs fell on a row of houses.

Four of the casualties were in a Thames estuary town, where scores of homes were damaged.

One bomber, which crashed on the southeast coast after being crippled by British Spitfire fighters, narrowly missed a big hotel on the sea cliffs.

One member of the crew attempted to parachute to safety but was killed when he became entangled in the plane's tail, which fell 100 yards from the engine and wings.

The three other crew members, uninjured, were seized and taken to police headquarters.

The 4-man crew of another German raider shot down at sea was rescued by fishermen. Two of the Nazis were wounded.

Scurry for Shelter
Thousands of Britons, many of whom were experiencing their first taste of real war, were sent scurrying to air-raid shelters when the first alarms were sounded near midnight.

At one point in Cambridgeshire spectators who remained above ground were ordered to take cover.

Axis Prepares for 'Final Attack' if Terms are Refused

Would Station Army in France to Prevent Aid to British

Rome—(P via Radio)—The Rome radio in a broadcast tonight said it was learned that Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini had ordered their armies to positions along a "united, strategic line" from the Atlantic to the Mediterranean for a "final attack" on France should she reject their peace conditions.

Rome—(P)—Stationing of an Italian-German army of occupation on French soil was foreseen by political circles today as a probable condition of the terms which Premier Mussolini and Adolf Hitler decided yesterday France must accept to obtain peace.

Although there was no official information concerning the details of the peace terms upon which they have agreed, informed quarters believed it certain they would insist on full guarantees against any part of France being involved in future military operations against either Italy or Germany.

Such safeguards were regarded as essential in Italian circles in view of Britain's announced determination to continue hostilities.

Fascists warned that French rejection of the terms fixed at Munich would bring a swift "final assault" by the combined German and Italian armies to smash her to the ground.

Seek Complete Surrender
Stefani, the official Italian news agency, said the terms would be "more generous" than the treatment France could have expected had she accepted an eleventh hour offer of political union with Britain.

The newspaper Il Popolo Di Roma said Germany and Italy would demand the unconditional surrender of France.

Its Munich correspondent said a precise plan had been drawn up for the division of French territory between German and Italian armies to prevent the French from aiding Britain any further.

German and Italian plans for an armistice, he said, likewise will require France to hand over all her gold, raw materials and factories for use in the fight against Britain.

Record Storm Hits in Vicinity of Two Rivers

Two Rivers—(P)—A record cloudburst, accompanied by winds of tornado velocity, struck the Two Rivers region last night.

Two cows were killed by lightning near Zander, 15 miles north of Two Rivers, and a barn was destroyed.

The downpour flooded Two Rivers streets for more than an hour, but the city escaped damage from the high wind. Streets and highways in outlying districts were damaged heavily.

Compulsory Military Training For American Youth Due for Mixed Reception in Congress

Washington—(P)—The question of compulsory national service for American youth—now being studied by President Roosevelt—soon may be put squarely up to congress, where a mixed reception was indicated today.

The chief executive discussed universal training during his press conference yesterday, saying that he might communicate with congress on the subject within the next three or six weeks.

An administration lieutenant, Senator Byrnes (D-S. C.), followed up with the statement that he understood the war department already had worked out plans for such a program.

As argument developed over this defense issue, other aspects of the preparedness program bid for attention in Capitol hill.

1. Informed sources predicted a substantial additional request for funds for the army.

2. Passage of the navy's surprise $4,000,000,000 fleet expansion plan was recommended unanimously to the house by its naval committee.

3. A senate committee took steps to provide money to start the Ford Motor company on the mass production of airplane engines on government order.

4. Legislation to empower the president to send Red Cross "merc" ships into the war zone was blocked temporarily by Senator Holt (D-W. Va.), who accused the

Group Named To Meet With Reich Envoys

May Meet in Madrid, Predict Severe Terms

London—(P)—The official Italian news agency reported from Basel, Switzerland, today that Adolf Hitler had decided to demand capitulation "pure and simple" as a condition of an armistice with France, Reuters, British News agency, reported.

Bordeaux—France met Germany's first request in her efforts for a "soldier's peace" today by naming a group of men who will receive from the reich's government its expected severe terms for an end of the fighting.

While the cabinet designated the plenipotentiaries Germany demanded as a prelude to peace negotiations, the scattered French armies continue resistance at some points.

In the main, the German advance continued to engulf French territory.

The Spanish ambassador, Jose Felix Lequerica presented Adolf Hitler's reply to the French plea to French Foreign Minister Paul Baudouin at 8 a. m. (1 a. m., C.S.T.) the waiting ministers were telephoned and the cabinet met within an hour.

May Meet in Madrid
The newspaper Figaro predicted that the French and German peace negotiators would meet in Madrid at the residence of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

The names of the French plenipotentiaries were not announced. The government of the reich will make known the date and place where they will be received as soon as they are announced.

The German reply considered by the cabinet this morning demanded the naming of plenipotentiaries as a prelude to considering the French request for the ending of hostilities.

Meanwhile France acted to protect her cities and population from the southward advance of the German armies.

With the Germans now holding approximately the northern third of the country and gaining more almost hourly, the government declared all cities of more than 20,000 population "open." This is the military device that spared Paris a siege.

The government also ordered an end to all removal of populations by military leaders and advised the civilians themselves to remain in their homes as the safest place they could be.

(The Spanish state radio, heard in London, said that squadrons of planes, presumably French, had been seen flying south over Palma, Mallorca, toward Africa, apparently escaping from France.)

Cooper Says British 'Must Only Beat Off Invader for 2 Months'

London—(P via radio)—Alfred Duff Cooper, British minister of information, declared in a broadcast today that the defeat of the French "was not the first time a great nation had been defeated" and returned to victory.

The French defeat was a great blow to the British, he said, but England retained the good will of France as well as of other nations that have fallen before the Nazi army.

"Bombardment and invasion of the island will be the next phase of the war," he added.

The defense task is simpler, he went on, because the line of battle is shorter. On one side is the Atlantic, which he said is a bulwark for the British island.

He also pointed to the dominions, including Canada, and referred to President Roosevelt's promise of help.

"We have therefore behind us an inexhaustible source of supply," he said.

"We therefore must only beat off the invader for two months," he added, and British supplies would increase while Germany's decreased.

Reach Agreement in Tientsin Controversy

London—(P)—The signature in Tokyo of a British-Japanese agreement settling several points of their Tientsin controversy was announced today in the house of commons by R. A. Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs.

The house cheered as Butler announced that the Japanese army's barricades around the British concession in the North China city were being removed as a result of the new accord.

State Board Cuts $564,000 Off of Proposed Outlays

Reduces Projected Government Costs for Year Beginning July 1

Madison—(P)—Projected state government expenditures for the 1940-41 fiscal year beginning July 1 were reduced by $564,000 by the emergency board yesterday.

Specific appropriations were cut $496,818.88 while revolving balances—income obtained by departments from fees, licenses, permits and other outside sources—of $81,818.37 were added to the general fund.

Proposed revolving expenditures were reduced $42,866.79.

In addition to releasing $137,591 for relief in July appropriations $30,000 for installation of a centralized accounting system in the secretary of state's office, allocating $20,000 to the research bureau, and allocating $35,000 for University of Wisconsin WPA projects for the first quarter, the board also:

Transferred a balance of $43,600 of this year's emergency board relief funds to next year's account;

Appropriated $15,000 to employ additional normal school summer session teachers.

Allocated an additional $8,150 to Stout Institute for the next six months.

Appropriated $1,500 to the water pollution committee, and cancelled reductions of $250 in appropriations to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Spanish War Veterans, G. A. R. camp, and Disabled Veterans of the World War.

Wants Increase in Workers Benefits

Altmeyer, Social Security Board Chairman, Proposes Plan

Milwaukee—(P)—A 66 per cent increase in benefits to unemployed workers under the unemployment compensation system is advocated by Arthur J. Altmeyer, chairman of the social security board.

Altmeyer, a former Wisconsin resident, who spoke at the American Federation of Hosiery Workers (CIO) convention yesterday, criticized the piling up of unemployment reserves by the states, including Wisconsin.

"Benefit payments must be made more adequate for two major reasons," Altmeyer declared. "The first is to provide for more adequate compensation to the unemployed worker for wage losses to be sustained, and the second to help sustain the purchasing power of the consuming public when business is bad and shops and factories close for lack of orders."

"Most states now have enough reserves and enough money coming in to provide more adequate benefits. The reserves should be released as benefits rather than be kept in vaults by the states."

Altmeyer offered what he said were six principal points for improvement of unemployment compensation laws—a shorter waiting period for benefits to begin; higher minimum benefits; a higher benefit rate, longer duration of benefits; payment of partial benefits and simplification of eligibility qualifications.

Nazis Attempt To Bring About Decisive Blow

the French "are dissolving more and more."

The French were fighting on orders of Premier Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, on whose aged shoulders rested the choice between peace on terms fixed by the Berlin-Rome axis partners or a continuation of the losing battle.

There were no details in the communique on the capture of Cherbourg, which lies across the channel just south of Plymouth and Southampton, England, and west of Le Havre, which is already in German hands.

Rennes, which the Germans also have taken, is a junction for trains running from Brest and St. Nazaire, Atlantic shipping ports, and Paris.

Nazis Push Forward

Le Mans, famous for the earliest stained-glass cathedral windows in France, was passed through to the south, the communique said, and added that the Loire again was crossed at many points between Orleans and Nevers in north-central France.

The Nazi army, the communique said, was pushing forward from Burgundy south toward Lyon, another highly-important manufacturing center in the Rhone valley.

Details of the terms agreed upon by Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini at a momentous meeting yesterday in Munich remained a closely-guarded secret, but there was little doubt in Berlin that they would prove to be harsh.

Authorized sources emphasized with great firmness that the German-Italian terms, whatever their nature, are not open to negotiation, and must be accepted or rejected as they stand.

Meeting at Munich to discuss the fate of France. Adolf Hitler (left) and Benito Mussolini (second from left) are shown reviewing a guard of honor in the Munich railway station square just after Mussolini's arrival. This picture was radioed from Berlin to New York.

Hitler Jockeys for More Time In Which to Further Weaken Position of French Soldiers

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

New York—(P)—The delay in the Franco-German armistice negotiations, imposed by the Nazi demand that a plenipotentiary be sent to receive the closely-guarded terms, gives the invaders a chance to continue their efforts to smash utterly the French army.

The more desperate the position of the defending forces, which now are split into four hard-pressed sections, the more difficult will the French government find it to evade capitulation.

Hitler naturally wasn't unmindful of this in demanding a procedure which would give his war-machine more time to grind finer. All of which doesn't tend to lessen the belief that the terms for surrender are going to be harsh.

There have been many rumors of the character of the mess of pottage which Hitler and Mussolini have cooked up for France to eat, but the terms have been closely-guarded, although complete capitulation is said by authoritative quarters in Berlin to be demanded.

Planes Raid Coast

Meanwhile, advance notice of the fierceness of the coming "battle of Britain" was served last night in the Nazi blood-bath administered to the east coast of England in a great air-raid of 100 planes which killed at least 12 civilians and wounded 13 more.

Maybe this was Hitler's answer to British Premier Churchill's defiant speech in which the latter declared England would fight to a finish and would vanquish nazidom. Those words must have sounded hard on the Fuehrer's ears.

Be that as it may, the raid was a potent reminder that this last act of the Hitlerian blitzkrieg which is about to open is going to be war to the death.

Upon this final conflict depends whether the French and British empires shall be crushed and dismembered. Upon it depends whether Hitler shall profit by the conquests he already has made or whether they shall be wiped out.

Everything up to this juncture has been merely preliminary to the assault on England.

"Total Warfare"

So great are the issues involved that we are likely to see "total warfare" carried to extremes which will exceed the terrors already revealed since Hitler first lashed out at Poland.

With the beginning of the Nazi offensive against England the blitzkrieg will enter a new phase. The clash between vast land forces, which has ended in the collapse of France, is over for the moment.

This will now give way at the outset to a conflict in which the powerful German air force will be pitted against the British navy and air force. Infantry and mechanized columns won't be called upon to play a part again until Hitler attempts his actual invasion of the tight little island.

Hitler's logical strategy would seem to be to prepare the ground thoroughly for invasion by a violent and persistent attack on British shipping, ports, airfields and industrial centers with bombers. Upon the success of these initial operations success of these initial operations likely will depend the outcome of

Koehler Says U. S. Must Heed Warning, Prepare for Worst

Milwaukee—(P)—Dr. John P. Koehler, Republican candidate for United States senator, declared today that "a conqueror's peace should be a warning to our country to prepare for the worst."

In an address prepared for delivery before the Knights of the Round Table, Koehler said:

"We must then prepare to defend our heritage of democracy. It is within the bounds of possibility that America may be the last surviving democracy in the world."

"The next generation will not only have to bear the untold burden of the waste of the present war, but will have to live in an atmosphere of tension."

Responding to a tribute paid him by health department and city employees last night, Dr. Koehler, who resigned as city health commissioner to enter the campaign, said:

"Democracy will live as long as a virile interest in Democratic government exists. All of us, whether public employees or not, can serve the nation's best interests by fostering and promoting the civic consciousness. Democratic traditions must be kept alive by wide-awake citizenship."

administration of stirring up hatred and said the ships might provide an "incident" which would send the country into war.

5. The house passed the senate-approved resolution which puts the United States on record as opposed to the transfer of foreign possessions in the western hemisphere to any non-American power.

President Roosevelt, in outlining the compulsory training program he has under consideration, emphasized that it was still in the study stage.

It contemplated, he explained, eventual government service for all of the nation's young men — and perhaps its young women — in promoting the national defense.

He divided the types of service into four classifications. There would be those in the fighting forces, he said; those in the auxiliary uniformed forces behind the lines; those engaged in the production of munitions and defense materials, and those whose task it would be to conserve national resources.

Mr. Roosevelt mentioned a year as the length of training that might be required, and said that such a term of disciplined training would be good for the nation's young people, besides helping defense.

Governor to Ask 3 Army Aviation Units for State

Bases Would Probably be at Milwaukee, Madison, Superior

Madison—(P)—Governor Heil planned today to ask the war department to locate three military aviation units in Wisconsin.

Upon recommendation of the joint legislative aeronautics committee, the governor said he would request the allocation of a national guard squadron, a naval reserve facility for aviation.

Bases for these units, the governor said, probably would be located at Milwaukee, Madison, and Superior. Milwaukee and Madison already have offered their facilities for squadron purposes.

The committee, which met with Governor Heil yesterday, issued the following statement:

"We are of the opinion that since the navy has been authorized 10,000 planes and 16,000 pilots, and the army 9,000 planes and a proportionately large number of pilots, Wisconsin should make known its readiness to make available its facilities for these federal purposes."

Members of the committee include Senators Kenneth S. White of River Falls, chairman, and Morris Cookley of Beloit, and Assemblyman Ben Slater of Milwaukee, Walter Norman of Wauwatosa, and Leo T. Niemuth of Oshkosh.

and foreign affairs late yesterday, said the president was using "weasel words," and added that he wanted to see more exactly what Mr. Roosevelt had in mind.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, told the resolutions committee today that his organization favored "every ounce of assistance and supplies" to the democracies in Europe "short of our entry into the war."

After reading a long formal statement urging a score or more of planks for the Republican platform, including preservation of existing labor standards, Green was questioned by committee members.

Former Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey asked whether the A. F. of L. would be willing, if necessary, to "temporarily give up some of its wage and hour advantages."

"Labor," Green replied, "is prepared to make the same sacrifices as the average American citizen may be called upon to make."

Lewis' speech, delivered here last night before the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, aroused intense interest and much speculation among the delegates.

"Mr. Roosevelt made depression and unemployment a chronic fact in American life," Lewis said. "It was a slogan of the 1932 presidential election that Herbert Hoover was responsible for that depression. As a simple matter of justice, let me say here and now that the workers of the United States realize that he had nothing whatever to do with it. It was laid on his doorstep when he came to the White House."

"The policies he pursued in cooperation with other nations had a powerful effect in the start at recovery in 1932. The New Deal did not fulfill their promises or complete their undertakings. It was their policies and their weaknesses which have kept this country in depression for seven more years."

The Republican national committee was scheduled to meet in the afternoon to settle contests for seats at the convention. These involved the entire Alaska, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina delegations, and portions of the delegations from Georgia, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri and North Carolina.

Trucker Fined

Herbert Sperberg, Shawano, pleaded guilty of operating a truck with an overload and was fined $5 and costs by Judge Thomas H. Ryan in municipal court this morning. A state traffic policeman made the arrest.

War Situation Today

A picture of France in bondage—stripped of her gold, factories and raw materials, with German-Italian armies camped on her soil—was given today in unconfirmed reports of the "axis peace" terms dictated by Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini.

Authorized Nazis in Berlin emphasized that the German-Italian terms for an armistice are not open to negotiation. They must be accepted or rejected as they stand.

The official Italian news agency said Hitler demanded capitulation "pure and simple"—apparently meaning unconditional surrender.

While the details remained secret, Bordeaux reported that French and German negotiators would meet at Madrid at the residence of Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain. French plenipotentiaries to receive the German terms were named, the French cabinet announced.

Waves of German bombers meanwhile roared over England during the night, killing 12 civilians and wounding 13, in widespread raids—apparently Hitler's brimstone curtain-raiser reply to the "battle for Britain" proclaimed yesterday by Prime Minister Churchill.

The British expeditionary force has now been withdrawn from France, London reported, and will devote itself to the "one task" of home defense. About 1,250,000 soldiers are under arms to guard against the imminently-expected Nazi invasion.

Reports from Berlin said German troops, driving past France's great trans-Atlantic port of Cherbourg, had reached within 32 miles of Brest.

Other Nazi columns, the reports said, captured Nancy, rich French manufacturing city and former capital of Lorraine province, which lies south of Metz, and thrust a spearhead toward Lyon. The latter is almost directly opposite the Italian-Swiss border and would afford a near-by junction for Italian and German armies.

Berlin asserted that half of France is now in German hands, with the invading armies rapidly fanning out to the south.

Pope Pius XII appealed to Italians to be generous and spoke sorrowfully of "forces of error and deception."

Diplomatic circles in Madrid heard that the French have already accepted the axis peace terms, involving unconditional capitulation, occupation of France until the war is over, and surrender of the French fleet.

This was apparently premature, however, since reports from Bordeaux said the French Premier Petain has not even received the Nazi-fascist terms as yet.

Furthermore, the demand for surrender of the French fleet was believed futile, inasmuch as France's navy has been under British command since the outbreak of the war last September and in all likelihood—as admitted in Berlin—has been "spirited off" by the British.

In Canada, Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King called for quick legislative action in passing the government's compulsory service bill conscripting manpower and resources for war duty.

"There is an emergency position of a very grave character," he said.

Nazis Hear French Armistice Plea at Site of 1918 Surrender

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

With the German Army in France—(Relayed, by courier to Aachen and Telephone to Berlin)—(P)—Compiegne forest, where Marshal Foch received Germany's capitulation in 1918, was full of sight-seeing German soldiers when news of Premier Petain's request for an armistice reached the historic spot.

The German soldiers, by thousands, were being taken by their officers to view the railway car, now encased in a special building in which a German delegation headed by Matthias Erzberger signed the 1918 armistice on allied terms.

Maxime Weygand, French generalissimo, stood with Foch on that occasion as his right-hand man.

Officers showing their men the historic car pointed with special relish to Weygand's place. They also pointed proudly to the swastika banner waving over the monument depicting Germany's eagle struck down by the French sword. When news of Petain's armistice request was shouted at them the sight-seers broke into cheers.

By a strange coincidence, we had made a vast detour which brought us to the outskirts of famed Compiegne forest just as Petain made his tragic announcement to the French people.

The detour had been caused by the difficulty of finding an undamaged bridge across the Seine. We had been driving through the Norman's land of the south front, with its villages still smoldering and small towns shelled beyond recognition through communities where only half-starved dogs remained behind.

Suddenly as we turned on our radio we heard the momentous news—Petain's armistice plea.

Installment on Extended Taxes Due Before Aug. 1

Treasurer Mails Bills to 985 Appleton Property Owners

Bills covering the second installment of Appleton real estate and personal property taxes have been mailed to 985 taxpayers who took advantage of the city's 2-payment plan according to Joseph A. Kox, city treasurer.

The second installments are payable at the treasurer's office in city hall before Aug. 1 when they will be declared delinquent, if not paid, and will be turned over to the county treasurer for collection not later than Aug. 15.

Kox said payments on about $100,000 in taxes was postponed from March 1 under the plan representing 1,765 pieces of property.

The treasurer explained that a change in the state law makes all unpaid second installments delinquent Aug. 1 and subject to interest at the rate of 8 per cent per month after that date. The law requires the treasurer to return the delinquent taxes to the county.

The 2-payment plan, as it operates in Appleton, permits taxpayers to pay half their taxes March 1 and defer payment on the remaining 50 per cent for six months with only a 1 per cent interest charge, collected by the city to defray the costs of extending payment.

242 are Killed at Grade Crossings in State Last 5 Years

Madison—(U)—Grade crossing accidents claimed 242 lives in Wisconsin during the 5-year period ending with 1938, the public service commission said today.

The tabulation covering mishaps at 963 crossings also disclosed 828 persons were injured.

Nearly 800 of the state's 9,151 crossings are over roads or subways. Forty-two per cent are urban and 58 per cent rural. Approximately two-thirds of the accidents occurred at urban crossings.

There were five or more accidents at 29 crossings; four at 23; three at 49; two at 150, and one at 732.

County accidents totals included: Dane 78; Milwaukee 71; Rock 55; Brown 46; Outagamie 39; Waushara 34; Douglas, Fond du Lac and Winnebago, 31 each, and Dodge 27. No crossing accidents were reported from Door, Florence and Pepin counties.

The commission said its engineers would study the general locality of crossings where more than the usual number of accidents occurred to determine conditions leading to the accidents.

2,000 Soldiers Take Refuge in Swiss Territory

French Contingent Stumbles Across Border, Men Fall Exhausted

Le Locle, on the French-Swiss frontier.—Two thousand French soldiers, including a general, two colonels, four lieutenant-colonels and 35 other officers of the aviation and staff for the Dijon region stumbled wearily across Col des Roches ridge into neutral Switzerland today.

They surrendered to Swiss army border guards and without a murmur many fell exhausted to sleep on the grass.

The steady flow of refugees continued across this part of the Jura frontier, the old and the young in the dispirited masses.

They said many of their number were killed by bombing in towns of the Doubs valley, southeast of Besancon, France, and of how others were caught helplessly between the German and French fighting forces.

Brings Dead Child
One woman brought her dead child across the mountains with her. The child had been killed by a bomb fragment near Besancon.

A few rode, driving in camouflaged automobiles and trucks, all of which were thoroughly searched by the Swiss for arms.

Some of the soldiers' uniforms were torn and bloody. Many of the men had fought at Verdun.

They reached Besancon Sunday, they said, expecting to form a new army, only to find the city abandoned. Ammunition dumps and gasoline storage tanks were burning. Roads were filled with vehicles, abandoned for lack of fuel, or burned and twisted by bombings.

Yesterday a strong German motorized column near Pontarlier. The Germans fired at them long enough to force their way through to the southwest towards the Saone valley.

Holding-Out
This morning they fought at Joux, between Leclerc and Pontarlier, where French forces on two international railway lines were holding out against periodic attacks of a German panzer unit.

Among the refugees who entered Switzerland were 30 Austrian civilians who had been interned at Dijon. They said 20 others had been killed when they ran into fighting along the road.

Also with the refugees were 50 Spaniards who had been working in a French arms factory at Dijon.

SMASH DEFENSE LINE
Geneva, Switzerland on the French frontier.—Nazi mechanized units ploughing down the valley of the Ain in the Jura mountains were reported today to have outflanked the Bellegarde forts, near the Swiss border, and to have approached within 20 miles of Lyon.

A German wireless broadcast, picked up by NBC, said the Germans had reached Lyon.

The Germans were said to have broken through France's new southern defense line to threaten Lyon. Although comparatively fresh and numerically superior French troops with plenty of small arms tried to halt the Germans from behind road barricades, the defenders were unprotected from air attacks.

German columns drove to Macon, 40 miles north of Lyon, this morning, and reached Bourg this afternoon. Bourg is about 40 miles northeast of Lyon. By evening the attackers had progressed down the Ain to near its junction with the Rhone 12 miles above Lyon.

THE CHANGING MAP OF EUROPE

Since Adolf Hitler came to power in Germany, the map of Europe has undergone steady change, as indicated on this Associated Press map. Black areas are territories overrun by German armies, starting with Austria, including Czechoslovakia, Poland, Denmark, Norway, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. It includes also the Free City of Danzig and Mecklenburg. In doubt is the rest of France with Premier Petain seeking peace. Dotted areas show areas taken over by Russia: part of Poland, part of Finland, Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia. Italy's part in the changing is shown in crossed lines by the capturing of Albania. Not shown is the addition of Ethiopia to its colonies by Italy.

Officials Scored For Handling of Department Probe

Dr. Riegel Calls Conservation Investigation a "Burlesque"

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison.—The accusers became the accused here late yesterday as officials of the state research bureau investigating the state conservation department were charged with creating such an "air of suspicion" that the work of the department will be impeded in the future.

Dr. J. A. Riegel of St. Croix Falls, defender of the department and vice chairman of the Wisconsin conservation congress, was subpoenaed by the bureau after he had refused to appear voluntarily to submit to questioning by Col. August Frey and James Fornary of the research bureau. Riegel, former head of the official advisory group of the conservation commission, had written letters to Frey criticizing his conduct of the inquiry, and calling Frey and Fornary "persecutors" who were not interested in finding the truth about criticisms of the department.

Riegel termed the bureau's treatment of witnesses "shameful" and said that the whole investigation was a "burlesque" rivaling the much-condemned 1939 investigation of the department by a special legislative committee.

Riegel answered questions for three hours after the bureau presented another example of what it maintains is an improper and illegal policy followed by the department in making land exchanges with its own employees.

By employing subterfuges, according to Frey and Fornary, the conservation department has allowed its employees, including two brought to the witness stand thus far, to make advantageous trades with the state in land deals.

They Disagree
At today's hearing Fornary, Frey and Conservation Commissioner James A. Corcoran, of Webster, disagreed continually over the value of the paper firm's land.

"Now you are a successful timber operator," Frey said to Corcoran. "Please tell me if you would accept that Tomahawk land for your private business."

"Now 'looky' here, Mr. Frey," Corcoran replied. "I am going to answer your questions, but not the way you want me to. I won't answer your cross-examination. Now let us carry this thing on like gentlemen."

At another point, Fornary, producing pictures of the firm's land, said:

"Even a layman like myself can tell from these pictures that there are a lot of dead trees, underbrush, slashings and evidence of recent logging on that property."

"Well," Corcoran answered, "they look pretty good to me. You know God planted those trees up there, but he did not intend them to stay there."

NAMED TO BOARD
Madison.—(U)—Governor Heil today announced appointment of Dr. M. L. Sanfelippo of Racine, an ophthalmologist, to the Wisconsin state board of medical examiners. He succeeds Dr. Edward C. Murphy, of Eau Claire, for the term ending July 1, 1941.

Wenzel Kabat, Serving Life Term, Asks Pardon
Wenzel E. Kabat, convicted in 1906 of the murder of Michael McCarthy near Kaukauna, has made application for a pardon. The state board of pardons will hear the request on July 11.

Kabat, who was found guilty of killing McCarthy and burning his body, is serving a life term in state prison at Waupun.

It Is Said--
It seemed unusually quiet in the main office of St. Elizabeth hospital this morning. The singing of the office canary, Jackie, was conspicuous by its absence. Jackie died last night with rheumatism as the probable cause. For five years he preened himself in his cage and warbled to attract attention. Jackie was donated to the office staff, and that his absence will be missed was shown by the fact that he was buried by members on the hospital grounds.

ground cheered as a British fighter plane pumped machine-gun bullets into a bomber and sent the raider crashing in flames.

One eye-witness, describing the engagement, said:

"A searchlight caught the German. I could see a British fighter pumping incendiary bullets into it. Then the enemy plane fell out of the searchlight beam, but the lights picked it up again lower down."

"Suddenly it hit the ground and there was a burst of flame which lit up the sky."

BOMB NAZI CENTERS
London.—(U)—Oil supply centers, railway marsh

Today and Tomorrow

BY WALTER LIPPMAN

Our Situation

The situation of the United States is now as follows:

The capitulation of the French army may mean, even before these lines are printed, that the French navy has been surrendered to Hitler. It is certain to mean that whether France is occupied as a conquered province under a Nazi regime or whether it is permitted to maintain a nominal independence under some sort of French government, the French empire in North Africa, on the west coast of Africa, in Asia, and the French possessions in this hemisphere, will be governed from Berlin. There is no power left in France capable of resisting any demand which Berlin may make.

With the French navy surrendered, trapped, or conceivably scuttled, with the whole of France, Spain, and North Africa as a base of operations, the combined German and Italian naval, air, and land power will be available for the blockade, the bombing and the invasion of the British Isles. How effectively the British can resist this assault is a question. How much they will be willing to resist is an equally serious question. If, as may soon be the case, the British find themselves tomorrow, as the French found themselves yesterday, confronted with overwhelming force in Europe and without hope of full and effective assistance from the United States even if they resist, the British too may capitulate. In that event, whatever part of the British navy is not sunk in battle, is not scuttled, and does not escape to Canada and to the Far East, will fall into Hitler's hands. The British shipyards, the largest in the world, will fall into his hands. The British naval bases in Europe and in Africa will fall into his hands. Whatever government there is in the British Isles will either be a Nazi government or a puppet government under orders from Berlin.

The question that will then remain is whether there can exist an independent British government in the dominions of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, in the crown colonies of Bermuda, Jamaica and the like, and an independent Irish state. This question is of paramount importance to the United States. For if the British and French fleets fall to Hitler and if the British and French empires in this hemisphere, and on the shores of both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans become subject to his orders, the United States will be isolated completely.

This situation cannot be averted by promises that we shall eventually provide the British with aeroplanes under the cash and carry provisions of the neutrality law. The president made that promise to M. Reynaud. It was insufficient. The Reynaud government fell and France capitulated. The same promise made to Great Britain will have no better result. The fatal defect of the promise was not merely that it offered France no real assistance immediately but, more fundamentally, that it did not offer the French a sufficient reason to hope for an eventual liberation if they endured the punishment which further resistance entailed.

In the case of Great Britain further resistance is possible, in a sense in which it was not possible to France, first, because the British Isles can still be defended, and second, because the greater part of the British Empire—the dominions and the crown colonies—are beyond the immediate reach of Hitler's army. They will come within his immediate reach only if the British fleet is captured and the British crown, which is the center of the allegiance of the empire, is destroyed or made vassal to Hitler.

In order to sustain the resistance of the British Isles, in order to provide a sufficient reason why the British fleet should in the final stage take refuge in this hemisphere, in order to insure the continuing independence from Hitler's control of the dominions and of the crown colonies in this hemisphere or within striking distance of it, a deeper commitment than that offered to M. Reynaud would be required. It would be necessary to enter into specific arrangements with London and with Ottawa covering the character of the assistance we are willing to give and providing for the specific measures of protection which we are willing to undertake in the Atlantic Ocean and as respects the dominion and the crown colonies.

Authority Lacking For Such Agreements

The President does not have the authority to enter into such arrangements. The United States is therefore in a position where for lack of authority in its government it is unable to take any steps to safeguard its elementary security. If the people understand the situation, they will almost certainly wish to take the necessary steps. For by this time the French army having surrendered it must be evident to every one that the question for us is not whether we shall send an army to Europe but whether we shall use our naval air economic and political power to prevent Hitler from obtaining command of the Atlantic Ocean.

The necessary authority to deal with this imminent possibility can be obtained only by the declaration of an absolute party truce, by calling in at once the leaders of both parties in Congress and outside Congress, by laying the whole problem before the representatives of the people and requiring them to take the necessary decisions together as patriots and to share henceforth the responsibility. In a situation of such profound gravity, it is inadvisable that any other considerations—as to a third term or as to this or that Republican candidate's chances or as to anything else—should paralyze the United States government.

Yet the fact is that at the most critical moment in modern history the United States government is paralyzed by the division of authority between Congress and the President and by partisan politics. If the paralysis is allowed to continue and if the vital interests of the United States are fatally impaired, the American people will never forgive the politicians who failed them in their hour of need.

WHY NOT SEND AN ARMY TO ASIA?

We hope that when the Post-Crescent makes suggestions regarding the miraculous military strategy of our noble president they will be understood to be submitted with the meekness that becomes a commoner in the presence of the All-Wise.

But implying that our first line of defense is over on the Rhine has never appeared to be a complete coverage of our defense problem. The Rhine represents merely our east flank. But we have a west flank, too. If our eastern defenses begin on the Rhine obviously our western defenses begin on the Yangtze. If Germany imperils democracy in Europe, which is obvious, Japan imperils democracy in Asia, which is just as obvious.

Mr. Roosevelt and the War Party will never save us, we fear, by damming up the Rhine. We must have fortifications in China, too.

It is strange that we never became hysterical about the war in China although the brutal destruction that took place there was brought on many occasions to us by story and picture fresh and vivid. Why is it that German military might frightens Washington and that Japanese military might doesn't seem to count?

Could there be any connection in the proper answer to this question between the absence of Chinese propaganda in this country and the completeness of Allied propaganda here?

If Mr. Roosevelt shows the fine temper of a field marshal by taking the protection of our Atlantic coast to Europe what sort of sense does he display by not taking our Pacific coast to Asia?

In the answer to that question will be found many, many things. There is propaganda. It is poured into this country like a cloudburst and has already swept off their feet many people who, when they regain an upright position again, may come to think in different vein.

A great proportion of our people, perhaps 20 millions, have been to Europe in the last generation. Practically no one has been to Asia. Many of our important travelers have made happy contacts with the French and English who are delightful hosts. Almost without exception these people feel a personal injury at the anguish they know pervades the countries of their friends.

Propaganda and contact—these are the two things that turn our attention to war in Europe and lacking which we pay little attention to the war in Asia.

JUST WHERE IS ARETINO TODAY?

There died in Italy in the year 1557 at the age of 65 a thief, blasphemer, blackmailer, mule driver, panderer, mountebank and courier named Pietro Aretino and known as the Scourge of Princes who far outshone for his villainy anyone described by Machiavelli.

In a day when royalty was supreme and supported by all people in their own protection, it is amazing that a man lived who came up from the job of hangman's assistant to hold in the hollow of his hand every ruler, great and small, within 500 miles of his habitat, which was so great a distance in those bygone days that few had the distinction of traveling it.

But Aretino had a pen, a terrible pen that dripped poison, and he had a mind that worked with all the fury of a falling meteor, and he understood humankind sufficiently, read men and women with astonishing understanding, that he turned them on their pathways and shaped their policies in their craving to be relieved of his stabs and tortments.

One who knew him well composed this epitaph:
"Here lies Aretino, the Tuscan poet,
He slandered everyone but God.
This was his reason: 'I never heard of Him!'"

No one will ever know when Pietro Aretino first appeared upon this earth. Perhaps it was thousands of years ago if we follow the thoughts of the reincarnationists. But if we cannot fathom or give faith to the idea of man's reappearance it still must be admitted that certain men walk with every generation who have the precise mixture of qualities, good and bad, godly and devilish, that have appeared before, sometimes centuries earlier.

The difficulty in complete understanding comes in trying to gauge how sinister figures, bitter as acid, and destructive as flames, acquire control over even great men and their minds and by swerving them at pleasure really control an age and affect the millions.

FRENCH OPINION BLAMES AMERICA

Correspondent Alex Small wrote a very interesting description from Paris of the German entry into that city. Not the least important part of it had to do with French public opinion which is trying to analyze carefully the causes of the debacle which overwhelms the nation.

Mr. Small shouldered his way through crowds and asked incessant questions in the manner of correspondents since the time of Jack and the Beanstalk. He found opinions which should be of concern to America.

Some of the French, he said, blamed the Front Populaire and particularly "the pro-Russian blindness of men," but by far the great majority pointed the finger directly at America "and especially that French statesmen rushed into a war they were not ready to wage."

When Mr. Roosevelt started putting on his armor and running his thumb along the blade of his sword, men who were far wiser than he and in whose hands the safety of people would be much more secure took him to task for the perils he was creating elsewhere by his intemperance and hot-headed speeches. So this is not a case of being warned after the event but having full warning even as events were shaping.

A fine example of the condemnation of our President and the dangerous road he was traveling will be found in a speech by Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania, the man who was succeeded in the senate by guileless Guffey, once indicted for embezzling from the United States government and saved from trial by the great rogue, Harry Daugherty.

The man from Penn's Woods said:
"It would be a tragic thing if, as a result of our utterances, they (the Allies) were to assume commitments which otherwise they would not assume and plunged into war for the sake of consistency and honor, and were to turn to us to make good what they understood our assurances to be and thus put us in a position where we either would have to smilingly explain that we never had any intention of being taken too seriously or else ourselves plunged into a war which we would not approve either as respects its necessity or its wisdom."

Thirty years ago the direction of American affairs was fortunately in the hands of a man who said that America should always "speak softly but carry a big stick." We have reversed the situation. Today our President talks noisily, angrily, aggressively, and carries a toothpick.

JEST AND QUALM

In moving into Lithuania and taking over that little country Russia employed the childlike jest that it was in danger of attack from a people far less capable of military resistance than the Finns.

Since Lithuania has no harbor worth mentioning and no wealth worth considering it is evident that only dread of future possibilities suggested to Moscow that it create another outpost that may be employed against Germany.

We have both an adult and kindergarten story of great nations today as exemplified by this move and the reason given for it. Russia is motivated by fear. But it employs a jest to justify its movement. Perhaps its fear is exaggerated. Only time will tell. But its jest is apparently a correct appraisal by it of the childish mentality of its people.

Now all the world needs is a nation whose leaders are few in number but mighty in intellect ruling over a people who are great in number but deficient in intellect. This will bring a result somewhat parallel to the nightmare story painted by writers who saw the earth shudder under the march of millions of robots, terrifying Frankenstein, directed by men with glittering minds that contained not a trace of pity.

A Verse for Today

By Anne Campbell

IF THIS WERE THE LAST TIME

If this were the last time that we should meet,
How gently I would call you by your name!
With what consideration I would greet
Your every wish! No bickering or blame
Would mark our conversation. Only praise
And loving words would end our happy days.

Since I cannot be certain that this hour
Is not the last one we shall spend together,
Every good thought of you and me must flower
To keep our hearts in friendship's clear blue weather.
No hurting phrase, and never hate's black arts
Must trouble the strong union of our hearts.

Opinions of Others

WHILE WASHINGTON FIDDLER
Thinking of the billions the New Deal spent in "leaf-raking" projects while our pitiful air forces grew obsolete and the old wartime field guns gathered rust.

Think of the hundreds of millions that were poured out to fix unfixable prices and to gather in fixable votes.
Think of the unprecedented spending according to political expedience rather than according to plan.

Think of the lengthening "period of emergency," debt rising with taxation, the attempt on the part of left wing terrorists to foment strikes and disorder in order to hasten the dawn of industrial socialism, the confusion and fear which effectively halted industrial expansion, the government fostered union labor monopolies which "froze" a faithful few into the best jobs, hamstringing the apprentice system, and which has now actually created a shortage of skilled machinists in a time of national peril.

And then ask yourself if the New Deal has been a help or a hindrance in solving our current problems of national defense.—Tulsa Tribune, (Oklahoma).

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

Washington — Most striking indication that Hitler fears American intervention in Europe was his recent interview with Karl von Wiegand, ace correspondent of the Hearst newspapers.

Hitler hadn't given an interview to a newspaperman since the war started. He kept completely isolated. But, significantly enough, the initiative for this one came from Hitler himself.

Von Wiegand for many years has been a correspondent in Germany, and apparently was selected as the man who could best put across a message to the American people to the effect that Hitler would keep out of the western hemisphere.

Most significant fact about the interview was its timing. It came simultaneously with Premier Reynaud's two appeals for American aid and with United States moves to send more war supplies to the allies.

United States observes deducted that Hitler was more concerned over American aid than he liked to admit.

GERMAN EMBASSY

Significant hint that the German government does not soon expect the resumption of full diplomatic representation with the United States is the fact that it has given up the lease of the large combination mansion and chancery, located near the British and Brazilian embassies on Massachusetts avenue. Here Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff lived until his recall "to report on conditions in the United States" about two years ago.

It is also reported that the plans for the new German embassy, an elaborate modernistic structure scheduled for erection on S street, facing the homes of Herbert Hoover and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, have been filed away in a dusty Berlin pigeon-hole.

The present embassy, located far downtown on Massachusetts avenue, is an ugly red brick structure, a "hangover" from pre-World war days. It is almost entirely surrounded by boarding houses and apartments for government clerks.

NO BORE WILLKIE

Vivacious Mrs. Wendell Willkie is very proud of her White House-aspiring husband. Telling friends about it the other day, she said: "The reason I married him was because I knew I would never be bored."

"Has he ever best you?" laughed one of the friends.

"No," chuckled Mrs. Willkie, "not yet, anyway. I wouldn't mind beatings just so long as I wasn't bored. I couldn't stand that."

U. S. WAR PRODUCTION

One very real worry among some of Roosevelt's friends is that after all the hullabaloo over national defense, October may come around with not many more airplanes or tanks constructed.

This, they know, would be disastrous to the country, but also from a purely political viewpoint it would mean that defeat of President Roosevelt or any other Democratic candidate at the polls in November.

This possibility has caused shaking of heads even among several cabinet members who have seen how slowly other projects moved in the past. They know that with the nation voting the biggest national defense budget in peacetime history, and with the president himself emphasizing its urgency, the country is going to expect results and expect them fast.

But they also know it takes time to get dies set, machines ordered, plans made (about one year for battleships) and contracts signed. And they know the weak spots in their own administration in respect to red tape and efficiency.

ROOSEVELT'S COMIC CABINET

The president, when assistant secretary of the navy, had an excellent record for speeding production. He went out and bought up raw materials to such an extent that the army complained about it.

However, a lot of Roosevelt's intimates now feel he has got too soft-hearted about picking people—and firing them. Best illustration is his own cabinet, where if the situation wasn't so serious it would be screamingly funny.

The president wants to get rid of Secretaries Woodring and Perkins; has told inner circle intimates (who warn him that the Republicans plan to make an issue of the pair (that he would replace them. Yet he can't bring himself to hand them their walking papers.

Within the week the president has asked several friends if they could arrange to have Woodring and Perkins told they "ought" to tender their resignations.

Amusing thing about this indecision is that if there is anything Roosevelt ought to know by now, it is that only a blast of TNT will oust his secretaries of war and labor. They have repeatedly shown themselves as impervious to hints as Hitler is to mercy.

Twice in six months the president has offered Woodring diplomatic jobs. But both time he stood pat and Roosevelt let him get away with it. At present Woodring is almost an outsider in the inner workings of the defense program, has scarcely been consulted. But that doesn't seem to shake his determination to hang on no matter what the snubs.

"FANNY THE PERK"

Miss Perkins, idealistic and well meaning but as out of place in the labor department as a pacifist in Germany, doesn't even seem to be aware that she isn't welcome.

Roosevelt has practically dismantled her department from under her. His last two moves were to transfer the immigration bureau to Attorney General Jackson and to appoint Sidney Hillman as defense labor chief. Yet judging from what Miss Perkins earnestly tells friends, she is firmly convinced that "Frank" has no thought of wanting to replace her.

"If I felt for one moment," she said recently, "that the president wanted my resignation, he would have it within an hour."

Administration blame Mrs. Roosevelt for Miss Perkins' continuance in the cabinet. They say that if it weren't for the First Lady, the president would have had a new labor secretary long ago. Mrs. Roosevelt not only has gone to bat for Miss Perkins, but has advised her not to quit.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Veteran Senator George Norris is 70 years old, but he still can outbottle many younger colleagues. During a recent debate he spoke for four hours, standing on his feet continuously.

Philip Willkie, handsome son of Wendell Willkie, several months ago was voted the "most likely to succeed" by his senior Princeton classmates. But in the final exams, young Willkie flunked. . . . When pretty Janelle Johnson, 5-year-old daughter of Representative Jed Johnson of Oklahoma, was told that little brother Jed, Jr., had sat on the president's knee, she shrugged her shoulders and replied airily, "Humm, that's nothing. I kissed him."

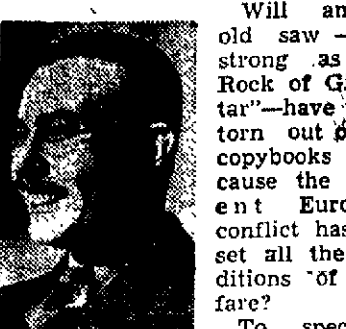

Paul McNutt, sometimes called "the Hoosier Napoleon," concluded his campaign tour at Waterloo, Ia.

A Bystander In Washington

BY JACK STINNETT

Washington—In Washington, the eyes of army and navy war kibitzers are turned to "The Rock."

Will another old saw—"as strong as the Rock of Gibraltar"—have to be torn out of the copybooks because the present European conflict has upset all the traditions of warfare?
To speculate on any possibilities in this war is to stick your neck out, but there's little need for guessing that Gibraltar will be attacked. A. Hitler already has announced his intention to give the Rock to Spain. If the means it, it's certainly an indication of his confidence in the Franco government, because with Ceuta across the way, that would give Spain absolute control of the old "Pillars of Hercules" beyond which the ancient Greeks and Romans dared not go, and through which no one since has thought to pass without dipping flags to the powers that controlled them.

However, the world is liable to see a battle for a rock-ribbed pinpoint of land that never has been duplicated in the wars of history.

This isn't my conclusion. It belongs to the army and navy departments and is based on known facts as well as the inside information that drifts through the channels of diplomacy.

See Avenue Through Spain

The reasoning is this: Should the Nazis succeed in subduing France, it's a cinch the Spanish would give them free passage across Spain to attack Gibraltar. With that easy avenue, and the privilege of establishing air bases within a few minutes of the Rock, Gibraltar would have to withstand a siege the like of which it never has seen in all its 2,000 years of war-torn history.

Gibraltar is a rocky sliver of land, 2 1/2 miles long and from one-fourth to three-fourths of a mile wide. It juts into the Mediterranean just east of the tip of Spain. It rises to 1,400 feet or so at its highest point and there are unscalable heights of 200 feet or more, from deep ocean or sandy plain.

Before the war, about 25,000 people lived in the city proper, located along a narrow beach on the western shore of one of the great harbors of the world. These people are mostly Spanish and Italian by origin, but because of more than 200 years of British rule, intermarriage and prosperity, they are English in sympathies.

Prepared For Siege

Since before the war, in the summer of '39, there has been a feverish activity—re-fortifying the city and the Rock to meet the exigencies of modern warfare. Now there are ten vast rock caverns, capable of taking care of 1,000 to 1,500 civilians. Food supplies for nearly a year are on hand in these bomb-proof, gas-proof caves, plus millions of gallons of water. Similar provisions have been made for 10,000 soldiers who would man the guns in the galleries of "the Upper Rock."

Gibraltarians are saying now that, if necessary, they can duplicate the ultimate success of that great siege in 1770, when, with only occasional relief, they withstood blockade and frequent attack for almost four years.

Time will tell. But strangest thing of all in this little investigation was the discovery that for years there have been two schools of thought in England—and one is certain that England should abandon the Mediterranean. That "lifeline talk" is just conversation, they say. Going around the Cape may be a little longer, but it's a route that no nation in the world could threaten. For nearly three months, this school of thought has been routing British shipping to India and the Orient.

Just a Step Behind the News

By Dave Boone

Hitler and Mussolini held their chop-licking party at Munich, and I wouldn't be a bit surprised if Adolf had a hard time convincing Benito that Italy hadn't won the whole war. It ain't hard imagining Mussolini pounding the table and yelling "France didn't give up until she heard I was in, did she?"

There's a rumor that Benito wants the French fleet, all the French coastal cities, Paris, the French air force and all French colonies, but is willing to let Hitler have Alsace-Lorraine. Stalin's expected to announce his demands any minute. The next big war may be between these three.

Nobody in world history has ever done any louder squawking about hard peace terms than Hitler. He's never made a speech without harping on the terrible peace of Versailles. So it will be mighty interesting to see how big-hearted and generous he will be when he draws up peace terms for the other fellow.

I'm thinking his idea of a just peace will make the Versailles terms seem as harmless as a seed catalogue.

They may be so harsh and unthinkable that they'll not only make the French resume fighting, but make the rest of the world realize what's in store for it when the Nazis think they are top dog. I wouldn't be surprised if Hitler's idea of a just peace to a gallant foe proved just the thing needed to bring an allied victory.

Under the Capitol Dome

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—State political parties customarily draw up their campaign platforms in a haphazard fashion which frequently leads them into trouble.

Wyngaard

Instead of deputizing a permanent group to study the issues on behalf of the party, the platform planks are thrown together by casually chosen committees at conferences and conventions and adopted by the party delegates as a matter of course.

Sometimes the statements contained in those planks are inaccurate through carelessness, sometimes through intention. A good recent example is the denunciation of the state department of agriculture and markets by the Keller Democratic faction in Wisconsin.

The tentative platform adopted by the platform conference here last Sunday accused the department of being improperly influenced by the cheese processors and dairy monopolists. There was no evidence shown. Somebody on the agriculture platform committee introduced the idea. It was adopted, and approved by the general committee without debate as a fact.

WRONG

Yet that statement is not only inaccurate but it is unfair to the men who have run the state department of agriculture for the last two or three years, men who have time and again publicly struck out against the persons and firms they believe to be inimical to the farm dairy producer's best interests, who have devoted their major efforts for months to the problem of selling natural cheese in order to wrest dominance of the dairy industry from the big corporations.

The Democrats who signed their names to that statement were so anxious to condemn the state department, because it had been reorganized by the Republican administration, that they are unknowingly inviting opposition from those farm voters who know what the department has been doing lately.

DISCOMFORT

Probably the most uncomfortable group of Republicans in Wisconsin today is the Jefferson county Republican organization which some weeks ago unanimously endorsed Robert K. Henry for governor over Mr. Heil and then saw Henry's boom flop ignominiously at the state convention.

Jefferson is customarily a Democratic county, and the Democrats there are now smiling in anticipation of the embarrassment of their local Republican opponents who will take the stump this fall to urge the reelection of a state administration they themselves recently repudiated.

The delicacy of the Jefferson Republicans' position is made the more critical because the endorsement of Henry was made at a party mass meeting at Fort Atkinson where Heil's abilities and achievements were outlined in the most unflattering terms.

P. F. LAFOLLETTE

Many people have wondered aloud recently about the silence of the LaFollette brothers, sons of the man who became world famous a quarter of a century ago through his attitude on America's position in the World War of that date, on the present European conflict.

Senator Bob, many persons feel, has already modified his father's unqualified non-interventionist and isolationist position by declaring for qualified support to the Allies, but Brother Phil, designated heir apparent of the famous sire, has said nothing at all.

Now comes the announcement that LaFollette has prepared a na-

Personal Health Talks

MEDICAL RESEARCH

According to a press notice received from an advertising agency one of the large life insurance companies has established a foundation for study of the treatment of cancer, in a large university hospital.

The president of the life insurance company says his company will support the foundation program for a period of years as a business-like move. He believes the life insurance business can draw a direct profit from investments in medical research. Cancer ranks second as a cause of death among his company's policyholders. Naturally, if the mortality rate from cancer is reduced for the country as a whole, the policyholders of his company will profit.

More than 20 years ago I withdrew my patronage as a buyer of life insurance from a company that began spending considerable sums on similar projects, and I recall that the company's representatives argued that the practice was justified because it would eventually rebound to the profit of policyholders.

Perhaps it has done so. I do not know whether insurance costs less or whether dividends or benefits are greater for policyholders in that company. But at the time it was a long term investment of uncertain value and it did not appeal to me.

Founding and maintaining institutions for the study and treatment of disease or for the promotion of health is as noble as the everyday charity of practicing physicians everywhere. It is as praiseworthy as the penny, dime or dollar contributions of children or adults to the Salvation Army, the Red Cross, the Tuberculosis Association. Still, it is not, in my opinion, a proper function of a large corporation in business to spend money on such activities. The money belongs to the stockholders or in the case of the insurance company to the policyholders, and should be returned to them, to use as they wish.

Still more do I doubt the propriety and even the business judgment of spending stockholders' or policyholders' funds for pretty booklets and other forms of publicity to teach people to avoid drafts and wear extra clothing when the weather is inclement.

Corporations that vie with one another in expending money in such activities ought to be restrained on the plain ground that they are practicing medicine.

Charity is a matter of conscience or soul. Large contributions by a soulless corporation, as a business-like investment, are of course an immediate boon to any health betterment research or activity. Still the ruling motive of philanthropy should be charity and not business.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Spinach Doesn't Matter

Please give your opinion on the observation of the chemist in the clipping enclosed. (M.M.C.)

Ans.—The chemist repeats a familiar theory that oxalates present in spinach render the calcium less available for use. It is of little interest if true, for milk, eggs, peas, beans, cabbage, nuts, peanuts, etc., are the best sources of calcium. Spinach is all right if you like it.

Nonwide speaking tour which will begin with a radio speech from Chicago Thursday night in which his attitudes on American foreign policy today will be made clear. And, any those who are acquainted with the former three-time governor and NPA father, LaFollette has some surprises in store for the American public in that speech.

35 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, June 23, 1915
Lemberg was captured by the Austro-German armies, according to an unofficial dispatch from Copenhagen. The Italians had gained possession of all the positions defending Malborghetto.

P. M. Conkey had purchased the Prude site, corner of Allen and Kimball streets, opposite the S. R. Wagg property, and was to build there that summer.

Appleton was to have a circus that year. The advance man for the Sells-Floto circus was in the city the previous day making arrangements.

Hay had reached a price of $18 a ton at that time, the highest it had been for four years.

10 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, June 18, 1930
The New York stock market passed through another selling climax that day, which depressed several pivotal shares to within striking distance of the minimum levels of the autumn selling panic. Total sales aggregated 6,400,000 shares, the second highest mark that year.

Kenneth Corbett, Appleton was elected president of the Wisconsin Association of Commerce Organization Secretaries at Madison Tuesday.

Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, Outagamie county treasurer, announced she would seek reelection in the fall. Earl W. Bates, Appleton, previously announced he would oppose Miss Ziegenhagen.

Council Orders Plans Drawn for 2 Park Projects

Roof for Hatten Stadium, Excavation of Lagoons Proposed

New London—On recommendation of Alderman William Litts, chairman of the park board, the common council last night voted to have WPA projects drawn for erection of a roof on the Hatten Memorial stadium and digging of lagoons in Hatten Recreation park. After the cost estimates have been determined, further action will be taken.

In a personal appearance before the council, Superintendent H. H. Helms pleaded that the present city park be turned over to the board of education for high school use when and if the Hatten park field is completed and in full use by city athletic groups. He pointed out that increased intramural activities and crowded varsity practice periods make the use of a nearby field imperative. He also asked that the lights be left on the field, explaining that only one row of reflectors would be required and that the installation of new lights at the Hatten field would not cost more than transferring the old ones.

Want Stadium Completed

Litts reported that his committee had found from a survey of other cities that the stadium roof is the most desirable project and the digging of the lagoons would be the most economical and provide the most labor. Earth excavated for the lagoons would be used to fill in the mosquito-breeding swamp in the west section of the park, and the waters would provide a natural skating rink in the winter. Original plans called for the water level in the lagoons to be maintained by automatic pumps connecting with the Wolf river. After the projects are drawn, the Hatten field committee in charge of the disposal of the Hatten park donation will be consulted for its cooperation in the selected work.

Boy scouts, Litts said, are not interested in any clubhouse at Hatten park because it is too far away and the proponents of the proposed band shell agreed the stadium roof was more important if both can not be had.

The park board chairman also crusaded for black-topping of the other two tennis courts at Hatten park but Mayor Lynn Springmire checked him by pointing out the need for economizing. However, Litts said he would get estimates of the cost and present them at the next meeting. The first two courts cost about $130 and it is expected the other two will cost about half as much with the materials obtained. The work may be allowed if it remains within the limits of the park budget.

May Get Lights

Mayor Springmire reported on the progress of efforts to secure traffic lights at the intersection of Highways 45 and 54 and said that state highway men from Wisconsin Rapids visited the city last week and inspected the intersection. He said the group promised to bring the matter before the highway commission and would seek to get the installation at all state expense. If not, an arrangement may be made whereby the city would furnish electric power to operate the signals. Chief of Police Harry D. Macklin was instructed to prepare a complete and detailed list of the accidents which have occurred at the corner and to submit the record to the department.

Plywood Defeats All Stars, 22-6

Alderman Ed Krangel of the board of health reported investigation of the recent milk cases involving the arrest of three parties selling milk from their homes in the city without licenses. He said one party had discontinued the practice while the other two were without proper sanitary facilities and failed to comply with state laws regarding dairy cattle. He offered the recommendation of the board that the council abide by and encourage enforcement of the present city ordinance.

Specifications for two new stoker boilers and one stoker for the city hall building were read and approved as recommended by the public property committee and the city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids on the installation.

Girl Scout Patrols Outline Camp Plans

New London—A week's camping trip for each patrol was planned by Girl Scouts of Troop 2 of the Methodist church at a meeting yesterday afternoon. Starting the second week in July, each of the three patrols will enjoy a cottage on Long Lake at Waupaca Chain O'Lakes where the girls vacationed last year. Nearly all 36 members of the troop plan to participate.

The sale of cookies underway by the girls has not been completed. Each girl is pledged to sell $1 worth of cookies to raise funds for the camping trip. The girls voted to order distinguishing badges for their uniforms before the camping season arrives.

Club Sees Movies on History of Baseball

New London—Motion pictures on the history of baseball, from its origin to the big league organizations of today, were shown to the New London Lions club by H. H. Helms, superintendent of schools, at the club's regular luncheon meeting at the Elwood hotel Tuesday noon.

A report on the Lions' state convention at Lake Geneva last week was given by delegates W. T. Comstock, Dr. C. E. Hammerberg and H. H. Helms.

Methodist North Side Circle Entertains at Garden Party

New London—About 25 persons were entertained at a public garden party at the home of Mrs. Clayton Holmes yesterday afternoon by members of the North Side circle of the Methodist church Dorcas society. Except for a brief interlude of showers which sent guests scurrying indoors, the party was a success. Mrs. William Dent was in charge of entertainment and the major prize in games was won by Mrs. Nellie Wells.

Mrs. Ed Jagoditsch entertained the past presidents of the Woman's Relief corps at her home Monday evening and had an extra table of guests including Mrs. Harvey Greenlaw, Mrs. John Yost, Mrs. Ed Surprize and Mrs. Augusta Bensie. Prizes were won by Mrs. Greenlaw, Mrs. Surprize and Mrs. Peter Schuh.

An extra table of guests were entertained by Mrs. William Tank when she was hostess to the Monday Night club at her home this week. The guests were Mrs. Elder, Schoenrock, Miss Isabel Schoenrock, Mrs. Rosaline Schoenrock, and the latter's daughter, Mrs. Henrietta Matthews of Sturgeon Bay who is visiting here for several weeks. Prizes were won by Mrs. Albert Pommering and Mrs. Frank Schoenrock. In two weeks Mrs. Herman Gotzgetreu will have the club.

Mrs. Alma Klemm, Mrs. Lester Sawall and Mrs. Dorothy Priebe were guests of the Lutheran Social club when Mr. Augusta Toepke entertained Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Sawall received the guest.

Remains Only Undeclared Team in Senior Men's Softball League

Standings:
Plywood 4 0
Beckman's All Stars 2 1
Edison Office 1 1
Edison Woodshop 1 2
Luffs Sluggers 1 2
Methodist Men 0 3

New London—The Plywood remained the only undeclared team in the Senior Men's softball league as it pummeled Beckman's All Stars 22 to 6 at Washington High school grounds last night. The Woods took a 7 to 2 lead in the first inning when they batted all around off the offerings of Earl Webb. Ken El-holtz and Clarence Kroll did the tossing for the winners. Ken Greenlaw starred at bat with two home runs and a perfect record in four trips to the plate. Art Bunke relieved Webb of pitching duties for the All Stars with Karl Krueger and Arnold Krenke exchanging places behind the plate.

Luffs Sluggers won their first game from the Edison Woodshop in a pitching duel, 5 to 3. Harry Young and Alex Luft were the winning pitchers. Young shutting out the Edison's first four innings. Thursday night the Methodist Men will meet Luffs Sluggers and the Edison Woodshop and Office will fight it out.

Sentiment for U. S. Defense of Canada if She Is Attacked Rises to 90 Per Cent, Poll Shows

BY DR. GEORGE GALLUP, Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J.—With a furious Nazi assault against the British expected as the aftermath of the French surrender, an overwhelming majority of American voters favor sending armed forces to aid Canada if she is attacked. A national survey completed just prior to the French capitulation found nearly nine in every ten voters supporting the idea of aid to America's northern neighbor.

How this sentiment will be affected by the fact that England is now alone in her war against Hitler remains to be seen in future surveys. But it is significant that up to last week sentiment for aiding Canada had risen sharply since the early days of the war. The trend is shown in the vote on the following question, which the American Institute of Public Opinion put to a cross-section of voters throughout the country:

"If Canada is actually invaded by any European power, do you think the United States should use its army and navy to aid Canada?"

	Yes	No
Last October	73%	27%
Last Week	87%	13%

In last week's survey only a tiny proportion (6 per cent) expressed no opinion.

The vote is the latest evidence of the public's desire not merely to defend the United States proper, but also to build up a system of hemisphere defense. In addition to aiding Canada against attack, American voters in previous surveys have declared themselves in favor of defending themselves around the Panama canal, and countries in South America.

Such defense is favored by the public chiefly for the reason that "Germany must not be allowed to get a foothold anywhere near our gates," and that "our line of defense extends beyond our own borders."

Clergyman Is Named Head of Odd Fellows

New London—The Rev. R. R. Holliday of the Methodist church was elected noble grand of the North Star lodge of the Order of Odd Fellows when semi-annual election of officers was held Monday night. TAKES OVER TAVERN

New London—William Wickert, Appleton, this week took over operation of the Ideal tavern just south of this city on Highway 45 and will become the new proprietor after July 1. He has been operating the White House tavern at Appleton.

Harvey Hebbe, who has operated the Ideal place the last year, moved Monday into the city and took up residence in the Kenkel flats.

Struggle for 'Top Scores' Distorts Bids

BY ELY CULBERTSON

The eternal struggle for "top scores" at duplicate contract tends to distort the bidding. The fact that a slam in no trump counts a few points more than slams in suits influences many players to sacrifice the greater potential score of no trump. That accounts for the contract in today's hand. South was playing in a duplicate match with a partner who did not play the cards well, and he maneuvered to become declarer and, at the same time to save off a certain opening lead.

North, dealer.

The bidding:
North East South West
1 heart Pass 1 spade (1) Pass
3 spades Pass 4 no trump Pass
5 diamonds Pass 6 no trump Pass

Altho South's bidding was much too fancy from the point of view of values, he really did not overbid. Strangely enough, North, altho he bid conventionally, did overbid. His double spade raise was too strong. Two spades would have reflected his values more accurately.

West decided that the safest opening was thru the unsupported heart suit. Dummy played the 10, which held when East properly refused to cover. The deuce of clubs was led and the queen finessed. The heart ace followed, then a diamond was led to the king, after which the heart king was cashed, declarer discarding a club. Four more diamonds followed and East's discards on the last three were highly unimagina-

Reasonable foresight on East's part would have warned him that this throw-in play was coming. East was, of course, forced to keep the king-jack of spades, but he should have blanked his club king and held onto the queen of hearts. Had he done so, the right of clubs in West's hand would have saved the day for the defenders, as West, instead of East, would have taken the lead and a spade return would have gone thru dummy's queen instead of up to it.

Good Taste Today by Emily Post

SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES

A situation, which at some time has occurred in the lives of all of us, is one where some one's behavior gradually impresses us as being rude—and yet we feel quite sure that they cannot have had any such intention. Then some one else exclaims, "How rude they were!" Whereupon we find ourselves jumping at conclusions with which we do not really agree. This is perhaps somewhat involved, so let me quote the letter that suggested the thought:

"The other evening we stopped at the house of friends and found them having an unusually late dinner, because unexpected relatives had stopped by on their way through town. They urged us to sit in the living room and listen to the radio and look at some new magazines while they finished dinner. We did. After a little while some one at the table got up and closed the doors between the living room and the dining room, and my husband and I felt rather shut out."

"Since then I've told a mutual friend about this and she said their behavior was the rudest thing she ever heard of, so now I'm wondering whether this would not be considered rude by everybody. In our own case, the rest of the evening was so pleasant that I had forgotten all about the incident—until I don't know how it happened to come into my mind when talking with the other friend. But now I'm hoping that you will discuss it for the sake of general information."

It might, I think, have been more polite had the person who shut the door given the reason for doing so, but judging by their manners later, I agree with your last impression: that they had no thought of rude-

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

For a hot day wedding in town, the bride's mother selects delicate pale pink gladioli blossoms which she wears as a corsage with a matching blossom on the brim of her large straw hat. Her gloves echo the color of the flowers.

Mother naturally wants to look her prettiest on her daughter's wedding day, but she should take care not to overdress and steal any of the attention which is due the bride! After all it is the bride's day and the ceremony should be so planned that each detail will make her look as beautiful and happy as a bride should look!

For a hot-day wedding, either in garden or church, mother may wear a street length afternoon frock of a color which will harmonize well with the dresses of the attendants for she will stand with them in a reception line after the ceremony. Unless it is an evening wedding a large hat is appropriate and should be chic enough to dramatize her costume. She should choose an exquisite corsage which gives a splashy color contrast to her gown, and her gloves may match its color. The pastel shades for dresses are generally favored, but a mother may select a darker shade such as a sheer deep blue or brown if it is more becoming. Her gloves, hat and flowers must, of course, brighten it.

Women, mother's age, will find that a powder foundation will help to keep their make-up looking fresh. Chill the skin before applying it, allow it to dry thoroughly and then powder with fresh cotton. Lipstick, rouge and nail polish should all harmonize in color, and the color should in turn harmonize with flowers and gown. Spend sufficient time at a beauty counter, or in a salon, to select the perfect shades of your cosmetics! Don't wear mascara, as chances are you will cry (mothers usually do) and your eyes will smear!

The Bride's Attendants

The maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, play somewhat the role of chorines on a wedding day—but they should not wear makeup like chorines! Their gowns and bonnets and flowers may be colorful and slightly histrionic, but their faces should be serene, soft and natural. Horrible is a procession of over-painted attendants, so it is a good idea for the bride to have a professional on hand to apply make-up to her bevy of attending beauties! One from a leading beauty salon would make pretty faces prettier, without permitting them to look artificially enhanced.

Gowns should be chosen according to the style of the bridal dress. For instance if the bride wears a sheer organza or other cotton, the bridesmaid's dresses should also be cotton. If the bride wears a formal satin gown, her maid's dresses should be fashioned from chiffon, tulle, maline or other sheer silk. Picture dresses of colored organza, with matching bonnets or hats are also appropriate with a satin gown for a summer wedding, but for summer only.

Much thought should be given to the selection of flowers. They should be exquisitely arranged and should furnish an interesting and flattering color contrast to the dresses. Flowers add greatly to the beauty of any ceremony, and they also enhance the beauty of the girls who wear them!

A Nice Custom

If you are unable to attend the wedding it is a nice custom to wire flowers to the home of the bride. A profusion of cut blossoms are used as decoration wherever the reception is held. If there is no reception, wire the bride flowers to her new home when she returns from her wedding trip! She'll adore your colorful remembrance.

My Neighbor Says—

Remove cake from the pan as soon as it comes from the oven by inverting the pan on a wire cake cooler or on a board covered with a piece of old linen. If the cake is inclined to stick do not hurry it from the pan, but loosen it with a knife around the edges and rest the pan on its four sides successively. Thus, by its own weight, the cake may be removed without the aid of a knife. Sour milk can be used just the same.

Avoid Tearful Farewells To Make Partings Easier

BY ANGELO PATRI

"But, Bunny, grandmother must go home. She stayed with us as long as she could. Grandpa needs her, and Uncle Billy. Now stop crying. Take him away, Nellie. Grandma has to go."

The screaming Bunny was hauled away, and mother and Granny, dabbing their eyes, left for the station. "Poor little fellow. He'll miss you so, mother. I don't know how I'm going to face him."

Dreading to meet the disconsolate child, mother went into the house. There was no sound of grief. Doubting her senses she peered into the rooms, but no weeping child appeared. Going to the rear window she looked out to see Bunny playing hide and seek with his three neighbors, shouting the loudest and running the hardest. "I never would have believed it possible if I hadn't seen it with my own eyes," she said.

Save Your Sympathy

Children adjust themselves to new situations quicker than grown people do. The length of time the adjustment requires depends upon the nature of the child and the severity of the change. But all healthy children adjust themselves in time—and they will do it sooner and easier if there is nobody suggesting how hard it is for them. Just let them alone as much as possible and they find a way.

This is comforting when children have to be sent away from home to school or camp or elsewhere. Going to school or camp is never too hard because children enjoy being with other children. They are interested in what they do and say, in their looks and their ways. This interest is enough to displace any feeling of homesickness in all but the rare child. If parents could see their children in the new school or camp twelve hours after leaving home, they would be like Bunny's mother, almost unbelieving.

Ban Emotional Farewells

The absence of tearful relatives is most helpful in these situations. The relative who stands gazing wistfully at the child just admitted to school or camp, instead of leaving promptly and cheerfully, sets the stage for a scene. "Kiss mother good-bye once more, dear. I shall miss you so tonight, and so will Daddy. What will he do without his little boy tonight?" is an invitation to dramatics, a spilling of emotion that is

Few Recognize Cares, Duties That Fall to Lot of Mother

BY DOROTHY DIX

One of the prettiest stories that has come to my attention recently is about an old woman who, when selected to be paid special honor as the most notable mother in her community, exclaimed: "Who, ME? Why, I've never done anything. I just brought up a houseful of girls and boys to be decent men and women. That's all. Nobody ever noticed me before."

She never did anything, yet she was a soldier who fought her battles as bravely as any general whose breast is covered with medals and whose deeds live in song and story. Eight times she faced death through torture that has become the synonym for suffering, to bring her children into the world. Her life was always a hand-to-hand fight with poverty and ill health and discouragement, but she never once ran up the white flag. She never whined nor complained. No matter how weary she was, no matter how her heart sickened with fear, she struggled on because she was fighting for something dearer than life to her. She was protecting her home and her young. She never did anything, yet she was a day laborer who had no union hours and no 40-hour week. She had no holidays, no vacations, not even a Saturday afternoon off. For there was always so much to do in a poor household where there were no servants and the babies trod on each other's heels.

There was a husband to be catered to and made comfortable; meals to cook, floors to scrub, soiled clothes to be washed, clothes to be mended, stockings to be darned, and all ways the incessant cry for M-o-t-h-e-r. Where's the M-o-t-h-e-r? M-o-t-h-e-r, where's my cap? M-o-t-h-e-r, I'm hungry. M-o-t-h-e-r, won't you mend my skates? And, somehow, Mother's frail little body carried on under a strain that would have sent a prizefighter to a rest cure.

"She never did anything," yet she was a financier who would have been secretary of the treasury if she had gotten her just deserts. Balancing the budget would have been no trick at all, compared to spreading her husband's thin pay envelope over the needs of a big family. Yet she did it.

Daily she performed the miracle of making one dollar do the work of five; of turning tough meat into savory ragouts; of making cakes that were short on butter and shy on eggs; yet were somehow angels' food; of giving a twist to a hat from the 10-cent store that made it look as if it came out of the Parisian Emporium, so that her children were never hungry, nor cold, nor ashamed of their appearance before their schoolmates.

"She never did anything," yet she was a jack of all trades and good at them all. She was a judge who had to use the wisdom of Solomon in settling the disputes between her children and deciding whether it was Johnny's turn to use the bicycle, or whether Mary was grabbing more than her share of the pie.

She was a doctor who knew what to do for minor juvenile ills. And she was a nurse whose hands had healing in their touch, who could go without food or sleep or rest for days and night together while a sick child clung to her, and would only be quiet in Mother's arms.

"She never did anything," yet she was the character builder whose work gets results. She had rounded her children on them. She had high ideals and she held them always before her children's eyes. She bred in them honor and honesty and decency until they became a part of them as their own skins.

And they couldn't have gotten away from them if they had desired to. For the things that motivate us in the crises of our lives are not our abstract theories of right and wrong. It is the things our mothers taught us at their knees.

"She never did anything," yet she was a martyr, because with her own hands she raised her children above herself and opened doors for them which would be forever closed to her. She went ababy that

CASE RECORDS OF A PSYCHOLOGIST

By Dr. George W. Crane
Psychologist, Northwestern University

Some of my most ardent readers may turn against me as a result of today's revelations, but I am revealing psychological truths in this Case Record. I am defending Carolyn because I feel that in her dilemma the odds usually favor the girl. This newspaper can quickly improve the status of such Carolyns by making housewives so self-conscious in this matter that they act like civilized human beings.

CASE Q-193: Carolyn G., aged 20, is an alert high school graduate. "At present I am doing housework," she said, "and would be very happy except for the following facts:

"First, my employers don't want me to correct the children, so when the parents are away, the children play havoc with the house. "They refuse to obey and tell me I am just the maid, so they don't have to do what I tell them. "Second, and this may seem like a petty thing but it actually causes a girl inconvenience, they pay me by check. Since I am not well known in the community, I have difficulty cashing checks. Besides, I am charged 10 cents for getting the check cashed.

"Third, my employers originally stated that I should have two evenings and a whole day free each week. But they want me to shift my evenings off, to suit their last minute whims. If they suddenly receive an invitation to a party on the night I am to be off, they may ask me to exchange the night and take another.

Inconsiderate Housewives

"If I have arranged for a date or have planned to see some special movie on that evening, and show reluctance about giving up my engagement, then they pout, or act as if I were hard-hearted and baselessly selfish. "Fourth, I am asked to help 10-year-old Mary with her homework.

LITTLE SPITFIRE

By Jean Randall

Yesterday, To her horror Brenda learns that she is responsible for Adelaide's worry. As a result of Brenda's scheme to jam the household machinery, Adelaide believes she is losing her mind. When Brenda explains, Adelaide starts to recover, but Brenda is irreconcilable.

Chapter 29
Heavy Heart

BRENDa stumbled wearily across the hall to the library, guided by Mac's hand at her elbow. She was numb with misery and lack of sleep. She hardly knew how she happened to be in a big armchair with pillows behind her tired shoulders, and with Mac holding something in a small glass to her lips.

"Drink this," he said quietly, and docilely she swallowed it. "It's aromatic spirits of ammonia and will buck you up," he went on. "Now, Brenda, let me do the talking for a few minutes. You just sit there and listen until I'm through. I know what Adelaide told you this morning—what you told her. And I know you're planning to tell Eric and Isobel about it, too."

"How?" she whispered. "How did you know?" "A word or two from Stern, something that Adelaide let fall when I saw her just before dinner; but most of all the facts themselves. I've been the world's dumbest idiot not to have connected cause and effect before."

The stimulant was helping her a little. Instead of the blur that Mac's face had been, it was clear-cut and friendly, even kindly. "But I must tell everybody—" "That's exactly what you must not do! Think, Brenda, of some of the harm that will cause, Isobel will grow self-conscious—for you can't explain what you did without telling why you did it! Adelaide's friends and neighbors will see with new eyes her casualness, her vagueness. Unconsciously they'll build up an atmosphere in which she may learn to distrust herself again. News remains news a long time on The Street. Most of us here have so little to talk of that they—we must things over and over until sometimes they lose their original proportions. . . . Are you listening, Brenda?"

"Yes." "Then I beg you to keep your own counsel on this subject. You've told the truth to the only two people concerned: Adelaide, and the doctor. Now forget the whole thing!" In spite of her determination, her chin quivered, two crystal tears rolled down her cheeks. Mac made an involuntary movement toward her, then stopped, one hand gripping the back of his chair.

"My dear," he said in a big-brotherly tone, "you're making too much of this. Your motive was good. You couldn't know about Adelaide's mother, or what effect your little plan would have on her. She was over-tired to begin with; perhaps already ill. That's what made her put so much stress on a few silly things she couldn't account for."

Brenda could not speak. She ened sleep away from Morpheus himself. Mac brought out pickles, strawberry jam, and the big black olives intended for tomorrow's dinner. Eric sat on the kitchen table, swinging his long legs and chattering on his fellow boarders.

Renailed

It was nearly one o'clock and they had almost finished their impromptu meal when a knock at the back door startled them. "Who on earth?" Isobel exclaimed.

Mac shot the bolt and opened the door, peering into the dim light. He peered, he stared, his eyes almost popped from his head, as Eric told him afterward "Salts!"

"And Linda," announced the artist proudly. "Let us in, Mac. We saw the light on in the living room and went to the front door but were afraid to ring for fear of waking Adelaide. Then I caught sight of the light streaming out of this window and we came around to see what's going on out here." He gazed radiantly from one to another, the bitterness gone from his eyes, joy fairly leaping from them. At his side stood a slender woman whose face reflected something of his own emotion.

"Will you tell me," Mac demanded, "what in the name of all that's sensible you're doing strolling around at this time of night?" "Here's Linda," Hugh said again, as if that explained everything. "You all know her—all but Brenda. Brenda, you blessed child, this is my wife!"

"Why is Brenda a blessed child?" Eric wished to know. "Because—bless her little interfering heart and soul—it was she who brought Linda home to me." "How?" asked a chorus of voices.

Salts threw his wife a humorous glance. "May I tell 'em darling?" For the first time Linda herself spoke; in a sweet, drawing voice which held a thread of laughter. "No, I'll do it myself, Hugh. You're sure to make it out worse than it is. It was Brenda," she explained, "only not in the way she had planned. I mean having Jim talk to me didn't do any good. He'd done it before — lots. But that girl in New York that Brenda

American Foreign Policy Is Mixture Of Sympathy, Fear

Politics Playing Big Part In Present Crisis, Lawrence Says

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington American foreign policy at the moment is a mixture of sympathy for the allies, fear of what the Republican convention may do, anxiety about our national defense program and apprehension over the possibility that Britain may be forced to sue for peace before the end of the summer.

Congress, of course, is waiting for the president to take the initiative. The moment he veers toward war, the Republican opposition will blast loose. There is no such thing as non-partisan consideration of foreign policy at this grave time in American history. Politics and personal ambition have come to the fore.

The responsibility for this state of affairs is being placed on Mr. Roosevelt who has consistently refused to announce that he will not accept a third term. He has proceeded on the assumption that his party will consider him indispensable in the crisis. Hence the Republicans are playing politics with a national crisis, are themselves beginning to play politics.

Meanwhile, the destinies of France and Britain are being settled as a consequence of the bickering and selfishness of politicians. The spectacle of political maneuvering in the midst of a serious international situation is causing more and more observers to remark that democracy has proved its incompetence and that a rightist movement in America will gain surprisingly substantial strength.

Rightist Movement

Even in France there has been for months a rightist movement which has despaired of making democracy work. So long as men put their own ambitions above the nation's welfare there will be political procrastination and lack of economic organization. The unrecurrent which is coming from conservative quarters is that the Blum government which was a New Deal administration, turned France and broke down her preparations for war by frustrating her production machinery. The criticism now is that America has been rendered helpless by left wing tactics and is today far from organized for war.

Plainly, there is no certainty now what American foreign policy will be. Irrespective of the campaign and its consequences, the present incumbent of the White House has the responsibility for leading the American people in this hour of crisis. As France drops out of the

George Millard in Congressional Race On Republican Slate

George Millard, 42, 1201 MUI street, New London, today announced his candidacy for congressman from the Eighth district. He will seek the office on the Republican ticket. Millard has been a lifelong resident of New London and is engaged in agricultural lime stone and crushed stone business in Waupaca and Outagamie counties the last 15 years with most operations centering in quarries south of New London.

Millard was an unsuccessful candidate for the assembly from the Waupaca district in 1927.

fighting, the idea of America helping with troops or ships grows hourly less and less likely. The only chance of American assumption of an active belligerency may come out of complications connected with the fate of the British fleet.

All sorts of plans are being discussed in the corridors of congress to buy the British fleet or to make arrangements through Canada to give the fleet bases in American waters. Within a fortnight, this question will become more acute than it is today. Admiration for the British determination to keep on fighting is voiced on every side but the surrender of Poland, Norway, Holland, Belgium and now France after the same heroic expression of undying purpose is recalled now as the fact of nazi physical force is realistically appraised.

Policy Question

What should America's policy be? The program of furnishing material aid to the allies is going at top speed, but it may be inadequate. Then what? Congress could be asked to authorize a declaration of a war basis. But, to what avail? The United States is not willing to send troops overseas and they are really not needed. Airplanes and pilots are vital but as many planes can be manned by British pilots are being exported already.

The chances of American involvement lie in the struggle for mastery of the seas. It is unlikely that the nazis will provoke an issue by seizing any French or British territory in this hemisphere. Herr Hitler will prefer economic attack on America through his control of nearly all the world's trade. He will attempt in that way to paralyze America's economic power and he will succeed unless all political parties here act together soon on measures for the upbuilding of the biggest air force the world has ever known.

A force of 50,000 planes is a year or more away, but the same genius that can build 50,000 can furnish 100,000 or more and that is the only language that dictatorship will understand. To organize for a real national defense program means an armament economy closely resembling the centralized operations of present day European governments.

Will the New Deal shift its ground and can it accomplish anything if it continues to play inaction versus labor and politics against the nation's need? This is the crucial question of the hour and on its answer American people in this hour of crisis depends the long range program of American security.

wrote to her. She kept telling me that Brenda said Hugh was wonderful and — well, she admitted with charming honesty, "I got jealous, that's all. You see I'd planned to come back when Jim — when Jim said I suppose that I'd thought I had Hugh in a sort of cold storage, waiting to be called for. The idea that he might get interested in another woman didn't appeal." She smiled at Brenda.

"So she thought the matter over and came to claim her property," was her husband's triumphant admission.

Brenda had paled and flushed and paled again. It frightened her to realize how greatly she could influence the lives of others. A gentle pull on the reins here, a flick of the whip there, and people seemed to respond like high-spirited horses. It was lucky that things had turned out well for the Salutes.

"But they quite easily might not," she brooded. "My letters might have made Linda run away where Hugh could never have found her."

She was very quiet during the subdued chatter that followed. She made more sandwiches for the callers, she smiled and said an appropriate sentence or two, but for the most part she sat, eyes heavy with weariness, heart heavy with a new grief.

Council Ponders Problems of Pool, Garbage Disposal

Committee of Women Urges Steps to Provide Swimming Facilities

Kaukauna — The city council had one of its longest sessions in years last night, as aldermen sat in shirt sleeves, sweating under the fans of the council room for more than four hours, and found themselves the center of activity that got its start in the gallery.

Just as routine bills were being passed the aldermen were surprised at a visit by ten women, representatives of civic organizations, who advocate construction of a swimming pool. While the women were there the councilmen talked about garbage disposal, and referred the matter to the board of public works.

F. F. Wettengel of Appleton opened and led a lengthy discussion in which he urged the council to take immediate action to approve the platting of the south side piece of land, formerly the site of Eden park, now owned by Wettengel's wife.

The Beaulieu hill territory figured in discussion two, first when former Alderman Walter Kilgas started a heated controversy concerning swine and cattle in the Fifth ward; again when aldermen decided to go up to the part of the hill known as "Luebkeville" next Sunday morning to look for a possible location for a park area in the Fifth ward.

Land Is Purchased
Purchase of land to extend Green street (really a continuation of Depot street on the north side of the Chicago and North Western tracks) from Draper street straight through to Superhighway 41, was approved. Recommendation was made by the board of public works and the motion introduced by Alderman Luedtke.

Another of the board's recommendations, concerning Gertrude street, just two blocks away, was approved by the council. Gertrude street, from the place where it crosses Draper at Hielpas' filling station, continues across the railroad track, across Superhighway 41 and on to the section known as "the settlement". The council voted that the west side of the street be graded for a sidewalk, so that pedestrians should not have to walk in the road. Alderman Luedtke made the motion.

Under the pressure of knowing that they had to award insurance contracts on 8 city vehicles before old policies expired at midnight, aldermen were bothered by a maze of technical language, and then took Mayor Gantner's suggestion of a 10-minute recess, to talk it over. In the meantime, insurance men present stalked about their policies. Result was that after the recess the council let the insurance contract to Anton Berkens, whose bid of $298.54 was low. Other bids were $301.79 by Merritt Black and $331.01 by Leo Schmalz. The insurance covers fire, trucks, nurse and police cars, city trucks.

The gallery activity started when the women's organization representatives arrived at about 7:30. Speaking about the swimming pool for the group, Mrs. Cy Driessen told the council that their organization would like to talk the matter over with the aldermen, and would like to help bring about the development of a good place for Kaukauna boys and girls to swim.

Whence the Funds?
The ugly matter of money made its immediate appearance in the discussion, when Mayor Gantner said, "That is a fine suggestion, but where are we going to get the money?"

Alderman Alger explained that while the construction of an $18,000 pool would be out of the question now, the natural pool being built in the river bed near the city water pumping station on the island would be a suitable swimming place until a better, artificial pool could be afforded.

"The water will back up from the new power project," he explained. "The river bed is being cleared of loose rocks, and the bottom of the pool will be as smooth as this floor. Our only problem will be that of getting the approval of the state board of health, but I think the constantly changing water of the river there will satisfy them from a health standpoint."

Mrs. F. M. Charlesworth suggested that a fund be set aside for the construction of a pool sometime in the future, so that the city would not be perpetually without funds for the purpose.

Garbage Disposal
As the women rose to leave Alderman Mertens suggested that they remain while the council talked over the garbage disposal problem. He suggested that the Appleton man who did the job last year for 50 cents a month from each customer be asked to do it again. Alderman Alger disagreed, saying that the system did not work, since too many people failed to subscribe to the service.

Alderman Luedtke said "Let's use a part of the $3,000 that we have appropriated for the purpose and buy a truck." He moved that the matter be placed in the hands of the board of public works for investigation, and the motion carried.

This means that there will be no garbage collection for at least another two weeks, when the council will meet again. The women left.

When the discussion of the purchase of land to extend Green street straight to Superhighway 41 came up, the council appropriated $850 for the purchase of land and $75 for fixing the street, but attached a string to the land money.

Former Kaukauna Residents Visiting at Goetzman Home

Kaukauna — Mrs. Richard Wilpolt and daughter Margie, of Hudson Falls, N. Y., former Kaukauna residents, arrived Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goetzman, 309 DuCharme street, to spend two weeks visiting friends and relatives in this city.

Mrs. Beatrice Smiths has arrived from San Mateo, Calif., to visit for a time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Smiths.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Bostel, Grace Hielpas and Alfred Schampers attended the motorcycle rally held at Elkhart Lake Sunday.

Miss Rose Brown of Chicago spent the last few days visiting at the Owen O'Donnell and Carl Weigman homes.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Ebstone and daughter Lily Bell of Kansas City, Mo., are visiting here with Mrs. Ebstone's sister, Mrs. E. Ives and family.

Mrs. T. Hayes of Los Angeles, Calif., is spending two months with Mr. and Mrs. William Bay and other relatives here. She is the former Lillian Bay.

George Hopfensperger of Columbus, O., where he is attending a seminary, returned home for the summer vacation.

Miss Jane Nelson, student at the company, and that a member of that company is indebted to the city for about $185 for grading done on his property a year ago. The council agreed that the city be paid for its grading before it pay out money for the lot.

The Beaulieu hill swine and cattle controversy got its start when former Alderman Kilgas took the floor, fortified with a stack of notes and a letter from the state department of health. "This matter was brought up to the council before," he said, "and nothing has been done about it. I'd like to know what action has been taken."

When one of the aldermen told Kilgas he was making a political quibble of the situation, Kilgas said, "I resent that statement. The pigs are always getting out of their pens and running through people's yards."

When he challenged Alderman Luebke to do something for the Fifth ward citizens, Luebke said, "The pigs were there before you were. Why didn't you do something when you were alderman?" Kilgas explained that no one had brought up a petition, and that is why he had done nothing.

Will Check On Pigs
The matter died with the assurance from Alderman Femal that the board of health would investigate and see that the situation is cleaned up.

Other business included the purchase of eight raincoats for firemen, including a white one for the chief, from the Verfurth shoe store for $8.50 each, and the purchase of eight fire helmets from the American LaFrance and Foamite Protection company at $8.50 each.

F. F. Wettengel, in his speech concerning the approval of the platting of the old Eden park area said that if the city wanted to build a replica of its first log house on the lot on which the old "Council Oak" stands, his wife, who owns the property, would donate the lot.

Councilmen refuse to respond to his demands for immediate action on the approval, and referred the matter to the city planning commission. Wettengel said, "All right. Then I'll sell the lots by meals and buns."

A bartender's license was granted to O. Humphrey. A junk dealer's license was granted to Leo Austen. The fire and police commission was given authority to hire a reserve fireman to go on duty for vacation relief work for six weeks this summer.

Concerning a site for the proposed county garage to be built in the city the council could come to no agreement.

BY GORDON MCINTYRE
BIG Dick Williams, a southpaw who hurled two good games for Appleton and then ran into a period during which he could hardly retire a batter, returned to the hill last night and blanked Green Bay, 2 to 0. He was just so tough that a Birejav reached third base. One attempted to in the first but Dick cut him down with a forecut.

And so, if any more Appleton hurlers get wild or off color they'll probably go to the dentist and have a tooth yanked. At least that's one of the things that happened to Williams in the last week.

Williams started almost as usual when he walked the first two Bays to oppose him. But the next three brought putouts and from then on none of the Jays saw the vicinity of third base. The Papermakers put a fine touch to the contest with Hoffken taking a line drive off Hope's bat and doubling Bedrava off first in the ninth for the final out.

William fanned seven batters and walked three. He plunked two batters. At the plate, Dick got two singles into center, one a nice mashie shot to the green.

Deacon Delmore opposed Appleton and that was assurance of strong pitching on the part of the Bays. Deacon allowed eight hits, fanned five and walked three. He hit one batter, Manager Dancsak of the Papermakers.

The Papermakers threatened in the second when two hits put runners on third and first but nothing happened. In the fourth, one runner was erased at third and another left stranded there.

Win in Eighth
Appleton won the game in the 8th with two hits, two walks and a sacrifice. Les Hoffken opened the inning by singling to right. Manager Dancsak, hobbling badly, bunted him down to second base Clyde Chell, the Papermakers' new catcher, came up and lofted to left field but the Bays elected to put Al Standaert on the bases via a walk.

Murphy Malattia was the next hitter and Delmore worked hard on him before the first baseman drew a free ticket to first. And that brought up Ray Malewicz, the third baseman, who was moved from second to seventh in the batting order.

Ray swung at one for a foul and took a couple more pitches he didn't like. He then slashed a drive between the second baseman and the first baseman and Hoffken tallied with Standaert pounding along right behind him. Ivy fanned to end the inning.

Tonight, the teams will clash again with either Bob LaGrow or Steve Tomich, right handers, doing the pitching for Appleton.

Clinton continued its climb toward the top of the Three Eye league standings last night, gaining a full game on second place Cedar Rapids and league-leading Springfield.

Moline could get only three hits off Clinton's Jim Frank, giving the third-place club a 7 to 2 victory. The triumph left Clinton a half game out of second place and three games behind the top spot.

Springfield dropped a game to Waterloo, two runs in the seventh inning giving the basement nine a 7 to 4 victory, the team's eighth win of the season in 40 games.

Cedar Rapids fell before Evansville, 7 to 4. Evansville moved ahead of Madison into fifth place and now is only a half game behind Decatur in fourth. Decatur defeated Madison in the fourth game of the night, 7 to 6, in 10 innings.

Cedar Rapids and Evansville were scheduled for a night double-header but a rainstorm washed out the twilight contest.

THANKS, RAY

Hitch-Hiker Makes Ace in Tournament

Washington Youth's Hole-In-One Helps Him Qualify With 82

Chicago—(AP)—Francis Terril, 19-year-old youth of Puyallup, Wash., wanted to compete in the western junior golf tournament at all costs. He was so anxious to have a try at it that he bundled up his golf sticks and a few togs and hitchhiked all the way to the meet now in progress in Chicago, making the cross-country jaunt in five days.

Whether he wins or not, he was rewarded yesterday when he scored a hole-in-one during the qualifying round. He registered an ace on the 200-yard 10th hole and wound up with an 82, good enough for a spot in the championship flight.

Terril's feat attracted lots of attention, but not as much as the steady firing of Jim McCarthy, red-haired University of Illinois freshman, who carded a 30-35-74, two over par for the Mill Road course, to win the medal honor.

Young McCarthy, freshman football and basketball star, went over par on only four holes, partly balancing that with two birdies.

McCarthy's first round opponent today was Manuel De La Torre, Chicago, who qualified with an 82. Tom Nash, Chicago, whose 79 gave him fifth place, was paired with Freeman Plants of Rock Island, Ill.

Jim Anderson, of Whitewater, was the only Wisconsin golfer to qualify for match play. He scored 40-42 and was matched against Walter Atwood, Jr., of Chicago, who qualified with 80.

Robert Oaks, Oshkosh, Wis., failed to qualify when he posted 44-43-87. Robert Matchette, Milwaukee, also fell by the wayside, with 40-44-84.

Seymour Schedules Game With Cincinnati Negroes June 30

SEYMOUR—The greatest baseball show ever presented fans in this community will be staged at the ball park Sunday, June 30, when the Cincinnati Buckeyes, one of the really great Negro teams in the country will meet the Seymour team in an afternoon game.

The baseball club has gone to a great expense to bring this attraction to baseball fans and an advance sale of tickets will be put on. It is necessary for the Seymour team to guarantee the Buckeyes considerable money to play this exhibition game but it is hoped that the fans will rally to the support of their ball club and put this game over.

The Buckeyes are considered tops among teams of the country and they have wins over such teams as the Chicago American Giants and the Kansas City Monarchs.

Seymour will be at full strength and both Rocek and Weisgerber will be ready for mound duty.

TWO GAMES SUNDAY
The Seymour ball team will have a busy Sunday, playing in the afternoon at Two Rivers and in the evening at New London.

S. Jacobson of the B'nai B'rith team was walked to open the eighth and went to second on another walk. He scored on a bad throw.

The ideal pennant race—8 clubs tied for first place on Labor Day with a percentage of .500—is still just an unrealized baseball dream but the National League came close on June 6 and 7, when its 4 second division outposts, Phils, Pirates, Cardinals, Bees—all tossed restlessly under a postage stamp one-and-a-half-game percentage margin.

Competition in Clay Court Meet Stiffens For Seeded Players

Chicago—(AP)—The brief feast of "setups" is almost over for top-ranking players in the national clay courts tennis tourney.

Such internationally known stars as Bobby Riggs and Alice Marble have been knocking over "unknowns" but the third round matches on tap today pit many of the seeded entrants against tough competition.

One of the ranked men, Bryan Grant of Atlanta, seeded fifth, faces an especially tough opponent in young Jimmy Evert of Chicago, national junior indoor champion. Evert pulled a mild surprise yesterday by sending to the sidelines the English Davis cup star, Charles Hare.

Riggs and Miss Marble, top-seeded in their respective divisions, face secondary rivals in their third round matches, but after that the looting opportunities will be few and far between.

THE OPEN CHAMPION

LAWSON LITTLE: It Took Four Years As a Pro To Reach Top Money Ranks

William Lawson Little was born in 1910, the son of an army officer. When Lawson was in his early teens his father was ordered to China. There, at a lonely Shanghai army post, Little learned to play golf, playing over an old Chinese burial ground which soldiers had converted into a pitch and putt course. Long hours of practice on this queer sort of links made the boy a better than average young player.

Five years later Little, developed into a husky, wide-shouldered slugging hitter, finally won the United States amateur championship. That same year, 1934, he captured the British amateur crown, smashing all records with a 14 and 13 final triumph. Amateurs found him unbeatable. He successfully defended both titles in 1935. Experts compared him with Jones at his best. Some said he was a better match player.

Northern State Notes

MANITOWOC travels to New London tonight for a Northern State league engagement and Manager Al Berth's figures that a victory over the High Lifes will just about clinch the first half title for his much improved Ships.

Two Rivers is scheduled under the lights at Clintonville Thursday night. The Polar Bears have been undergoing some lineup changes but Fortin Smogoleski and company are always tough to beat no matter who they have got out in uniform.

A busy weekend is facing Seymour as Bill Row's squad struts its stuff at Two Rivers Sunday afternoon and then doubles back to New London to play off a game at night with the High Lifes which was rained out early in the season.

Clintonville will make its second appearance of the season at Manitowoc this Sunday. The Clints took it on the nose 6-1 in the first encounter but Manager Sid Felts has high hopes of getting even with the Shipbuilders.

Getting to a trio of New London slabsters for 18 hits, Seymour sort of mauled Mac Donner's crew to the tune of 14-4. The High Lifes were ragged in the field and the home club got their bingles when hits meant runs.

Baldy Eggert, Northern State league veteran, had a great day with his stick against New London Eggert clouded a homer with the bassocks dunk besides coming through with a trio of twin-sackers which were most timely.

Manitowoc had a booming fifth inning against their old rivals, Two Rivers and the Cool City squad went home on the short end of an 8-5 score. All of the Ships runs were scored in the fifth off Lefty Fortin and Bob Nelson.

George Hesik, speed-hall right-hander, was very much on against Two Rivers. The Manitowoc slabster sat down a dozen via the strikeout route. Hesik was a bit uneasy in the early frames but seemed to grow stronger as the game went on.

Marty Lamers is smiling these days as his son, Jack, who catches for Seymour is again getting his eye on the ball. The Lamers' family likes base hits better than cats and everything is fine again as Jack now has a .429 average.

The Menasha Falcons on the Valley loop have found Northern State competition pretty tough going.

Cubs, Sox in Victories Over Giants and Yankees: Hurlers Allow 6 Hits Each

By The Associated Press
A PAIR of six-hit performances by Chicago moundsmen gave the windy city major league teams victory over New York's representatives in both circuits yesterday.

At Chicago, southpaw Ed Smith baffled the American league Yankees to help the White Sox end a five-game losing streak and chalk up a 5 to 3 victory. Rookie Jake Mooty was the Cubs' hero, checking the Giants of the national league, for a 6 to 1 decision at New York.

The Sox peppered three New York hurlers with 14 hits, scoring one run in each of the first four frames. In the Chicago collection were home runs by Mike Kreevich and Julius Solters. The Yankees also had two homers, by Charley Keller and Joe DiMaggio.

Mooty dazzled a night crowd of 25,325 as well as the Giants. He came within a fraction of a shut-out, but in the ninth he walked Bill Jurgens and allowed him to reach third unmolested as two batters were retired. He scored on Burgess Whitehead's single.

Bill Nicholson took a big hand in getting runs for Mooty. He hit a two-run homer in the first.

The Giants used four hurlers.

Medwick Injured
Joseph (Muscles) Medwick, the big batter and leg man who was supposed to bring the Brooklyn Dodgers a National league pennant, is lying in a hospital today and the question is whether he took the Dodgers' championship chance with him.

Medwick suffered a concussion of the brain yesterday when hit by one of Bob Bowman's pitches in the first inning of a game which the St. Louis Cardinals ultimately won 7-5 in eleven innings. He's expected to be out of the lineup about three weeks, after which he may return as good as new—or he may not.

Loss of a player as valuable as Medwick is nothing less than heart-breaking to a club in the heat of a pennant chase. It puts the Dodgers right back where they were before they spent that estimated $150,000 and four players for Medwick and Pitcher Curt Davis a week ago today.

Their defeat yesterday was the fourth straight. They scored four runs against the Cards in the first frame, gave three of them right back the second and saw the score tied in the eighth when Luke Hamlin served up one of his well-known home run balls to Enos Slaughter with one on. The Cards hung on to win in the eleventh while Mort Cooper shutout Brooklyn for the last four innings. It was the sixth straight win for St. Louis.

Walters Loses No. 4
Bucky Walters, who won nine games in a row at the start of the season, was beaten for the fourth time in a row last night as the Phillies pounced upon the Cincinnati Reds 3-1. Bob Bragan, a rookie shortstop, caused all the trouble by hitting two home runs, one of them with one on to win the game in the ninth inning. Walters gave up just five hits and struck out eight.

Boston and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

The six-game winning streak of the Boston Red Sox finally was snapped at St. Louis in a motion picture finish that starred John Berardino. He came to bat in the tenth inning with the score tied and the bases loaded—and hit a home run for the Browns' 11-7 triumph.

Lefty Al Smith obtained his seventh victory against one defeat as the Cleveland Indians nosed out the Washington Senators 2-1 in a night game and moved into a tie with the Detroit Tigers for second place in the American league. Smith gave up only five hits.

Detroit and Philadelphia were rained out.

College Southpaw Is Hired by Boston Bees
Boston.—P.—Bob Williams, ace southpaw pitcher for the Amherst college baseball team, has been signed by the Boston Bees. Duffy Lewis, traveling secretary for the Bees, said that the 22-year-old Williams would report to the National league club Thursday.

It's "May-time" in June this year for the Philadelphia Phillies. Doomed to last place by the unanimous vote of experts last winter, Doc Prothro's hustlers found themselves in the thick of the June battle for second division leadership through the efforts of their leading batsman, Merrill Glend May, former Indiana University campus clouter, hitting at a .345 rate in mid-June.

MEDWICK HIT BY PITCHED BALL; OUT 3 WEEKS
Five days after joining the Brooklyn Dodgers, Joe Medwick was struck on the head by a pitched ball and suffered a brain concussion. Bob Bowman, 25-year-old pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, threw the ball that felled the famous slugger. He was expected to be lost to the team for three weeks. Medwick is shown here on the ground with players gathering around him.

Valley League Gossip

KIMBERLY Papermakers, last year's champions are finding the going tough this season and have dropped three straight games. Last Wednesday they lost to Kaukauna, Thursday to Appleton Gettelmans and last Sunday to Manitowoc. The Papermakers have good mound material but have lost on bad breaks.

The Appleton Red Sox, now under the management of Tom Murphy, have taken on a new lease of life. They eked out a 7 to 6 win over Neenah last Thursday under lights at Spencer street field before a disappointing crowd. The weather was bad with even the players shivering.

Norm Kirk, centerfielder for the Appleton Gettelmans, made a sensational catch of a sure home run by a desperate stretch over his head. He saved what looked like Neenah's winning run. He also collected two hits and two runs while Honey Beach, new shortstop, collected four for five and Paul Grishaber three for four, to pace the Gettelmans at the plate. Fahrenkrug showed three for four and Wahlers two for four for Neenah.

Artie Hofkins and Johnny Rows hooked up in a hurling duel at Kaukauna last week with Rowe erasing 16 opponents at the plate and Hofkins 10. The game went 11 innings before being decided by a misplay. Kimberly tied up the game in the ninth on a misplay but Kaukauna got the last break to win.

Baker Verstegen, hammered out a double and two singles and received two passes to first base for a perfect average against Neenah last Sunday. The game was billed for Neenah but transferred to Appleton as an added attraction to the Telulah park dedication.

In the Gettelman Brew-Kimberly game last Thursday, Sammy Krause, the Gettelman receiver started for home on Lefty Behr's winding up and slid in safely with the winning run. Krause is fast and once during the game arrived safe at first after the third strike got away from the Papermaker receiver.

Although the weather was more for football than baseball last Thursday night, Kimberly fans were out full force to load the stands. The Appleton boosters also were present and made themselves heard. The game saw the raising of the 1939 pennant and the flag with the Community band playing the national anthem.

Cliff Burton has scored two straight wins since being pressed into service for the Appleton Red Sox. He beat the Menasha Falcons and Neenah Merchants. Burton is a strapping fellow and almost reaches to the batter when he stretches for the throw.

Ralph Miller collected four out of five against Neenah to pace the Appleton Red Sox last Thursday evening under lights at Spencer street field before a disappointing crowd. The weather was bad with even the players shivering.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By the Associated Press
John Berardino, Browns — Hit home run with bases loaded in tenth to beat Red Sox. — Checked Ed Smith, White Sox. — Checked Yanks on six hits while mates pounded out 5-3 victory.

Morton Cooper, Cardinals — Held Dodgers to one run in five innings of relief hurling and scored one run after double in eleventh.

Bob Bragan, Phillies — Hit two home runs, one of them with one on in ninth, to beat Reds, 3-1.

Jake Mooty, Cubs — Held Giants to six hits in winning, 6-1.

Al Smith, Indians — Scored seventh victory by limiting Senators to five hits.

Lefty Fredericks hit a terrific homer with the ball bouncing on the pavement. There was a mate ahead of him. Fredericks usually hits hard for extra bases.

Ben Peck of Kaukauna celebrated at Appleton with four hits in five appearances all at the expense of a former teammate in the Class D loop, Sherman Kapp. Ikky Van Drasek, Wegester, Carl Schuler and Busse collected two hits apiece to raise their batting averages.

Lefty Vander Zanden started on the mound for Kimberly and twirled a good game allowing only eight hits against Manitowoc. The midge portender still is able to curve them across.

Next Sunday's will have the two Appleton entries, Gettelman Brews and the Red Sox tangling at Spencer street field in the start of a cues series. Kimberly will trek to Menasha to battle the Falcons and determine which goes into a tie for the cellar position. Kaukauna will be at home to Manitowoc while Oshkosh invades Neenah's park in the fourth game.

Ernie Bruggeman is a handy man to have around on anybody's ball club as a relief hurler. He finished against Kim-

Huskies Victors In Crew Regatta; Badgers are 7th

Washington Beats Cornell By Less Than Length At Poughkeepsie

BY BILL WHITE
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. —(AP)—It couldn't have been screwier if Joe Penner, Olson and Johnson and Joe Cook had teamed to stage it.

Usually a decorous and very staid affair, the 43rd annual Poughkeepsie regatta became anything but that yesterday, and the only thing in its favor was the courage and performance of Washington in winning the varsity race.

In the first place, the whole affair, which should last about three hours, took more than six and a half.

The first time they tried to run the junior varsity race, four of the six boats swamped. The second time they ran it, night had fallen over the ruffled Hudson and not one person in a thousand who came to view the races ever saw the event.

The varsity race, scheduled for the unusually early hour of 3 p. m. (C.S.T.), finally got off in the gathering dusk some three hours later after the fate of the Jayvees had made it obvious that there wasn't any use trying to stay on schedule.

Washington won, for the third time in the last five years, with a performance that everyone but close students of the sport thought was magnificent. Raw, red courage was there, but rowing smoothness was not. Nevertheless the Huskies, with the wind and tide against them, negotiated the four miles in 22:42 flat to wind up three quarters of a length better than the pride of the east—a dogged Cornell crew that battled every inch of the way.

Syracuse, after leading for a mile and a half, beat out Navy for third place in a final spurt. California, last year's winner, Columbia, Wisconsin and Princeton trailed along somewhere in the rear.

Both attempts of the Jayvee race were strictly ridiculous. The first time, only three of the six boats managed to last a mile and the fourth went under shortly thereafter. Cornell and Navy stayed afloat, strenuously protesting the three shots that meant "stop."

Long after the varsity race was finished and everybody had gone home, late stragglers saw some ghostly shells going down the river and reporters were able to ferret out later that the junior race had been run with Washington, Navy, California, Syracuse, Columbia and Cornell finishing in that order.

Practically no one saw the race and how it could be timed, as the winning boat was, in 18:07.1 for three miles, will always remain a mystery.

In the freshman race, poorly rowed, Cornell beat Princeton, Syracuse and Columbia in the slow two-mile time of 10:55.1.

Louis Appears to be Sharp For His Battle With Godoy

BY GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK —(AP)—Joe Louis is finely drawn and appears to be in a vicious humor for his second fight with Arturo Godoy, the durable Chilean, tomorrow night at Yankee stadium.

The face of the big Negro still is expressionless and his conversation strictly limited to monosyllables, but his stomach was flat as the pavement and he is down to 200 pounds, his best fighting weight.

His final workout yesterday was furious and purposeful. It came as something of a shock to the crowd at Greenwood lake to see the champion knock Joe O'Gatty, a harmless sparring partner, down and out with a sudden burst of punches.

O'Gatty, under instructions, had been crouching and rushing Louis.

like Godoy is expected to do, and for a time had Joe looking slightly foolish. But then one of his headlong plunges went wrong, and Louis nailed him flush on the jaw.

This was the first time any one could remember having seen Louis smash an employee around just before a fight. It was taken as a sign that he really has been brooding about his failure to stop Godoy in their first scrap and has reached an unusually keen edge for this one.

Asked what he intended doing to Godoy tomorrow night, Joe would only say: "I promise you he'll fight this time."

Old Jack Blackburn, the champion's trainer, said there was one thing for certain, that Louis had no intention of going into a rough fight like Godoy's and trying to force the Chilean to straighten up. "He'll fight his usual fight, and that'll be good enough."

The odds parlors still were laying 5 to 1 against Godoy's chances of lifting the championship, but a majority of observers think he will go the limit again.

With both men only limbering up at their camps today, promoter Mike Jacobs was hoping for a last-minute sale to boost the gate up to $200,000. He probably will have to settle for about $30,000 less.

Chart of the four-mile varsity race of the 43rd intercollegiate rowing association regatta yesterday:

Crew	1 Mile	2 Miles	3 Miles	4 Miles	Finish Time
Washington	2	2	3	1	22:42
Cornell	5	4	2	2	22:45.3
Syracuse	1	1	2	4	23:57
Navy	3	3	4	3	24:02
California	6	5	5	5	24:17

Frankie Pytlak Says He Is Sick, Leaves Cleveland for Home

Cleveland — (AP)—Diminutive catcher Frankie Pytlak, late in coming in again with the Cleveland Indians this season, is out again.

Pytlak has shuffled off to his Buffalo, N. Y., home, quitting the Tribe with the complaint he is ill, Vice President C. C. Slapnicka of the Cleveland baseball club said today.

Slapnicka reported several Cleveland physicians who examined the catcher failed to detect any ailment, but that Pytlak insisted he was sick and decided to drop out of baseball, at least temporarily. He left for Buffalo Monday after he had caught the second game of the Indians' double header with the Philadelphia Athletics Sunday.

Pytlak asked that his name be placed on the voluntary retirement list, Indians officials said. Denied the request unless he would supply evidence of his illness, the catcher announced he was quitting, officials reported.

Pytlak, this year's longest hold-out in the major leagues, came to the season started. His departure at this time leaves the Indians with only one catcher — Rollie Hemslay.

The victim was the Moose and Blick allowed only three hits. He has allowed only three runs in five games, has given up 17 hits in the games and has fanned 59 batters.

Last night Blick struck out eight batters and walked two. He was opposed by George Swamp who fanned eight and walked two while giving up ten hits.

The game was a pitching duel until the Institute broke the ice with two runs in the sixth. Each team had a run in the seventh and the Institute added one more in the eighth for good measure.

Movie Land Its People and Products

By Jimmie Fidler

Hollywood—Some of my recent protests against the production of anti-Nazi pictures have been misunderstood, and I want to take this space and your time today to make myself clear.

I am NOT pro-Nazi. I am listed as a United States Marine in the last war. I'll join up again when and if my country needs me.

Let's leave propaganda and the running of this country to men we've elected to handle those jobs. Let the men who make our movies—make our movies without embarrassment to our state departments!

CUFF NOTES: Ken Murray turned down big p. a. offers and will accompany Calif. Gov. Olsen's party to the Democratic convention.

Robert Taylor looks positively nude—the mustache is off. . . Tip to Eastern columnists: Intimates think Sonja Henie and Dan Topping may merge while in NY for the Lewis-Godoy re-match.

LAUGH OF THE WEEK: Producer Edward Small, currently filming "Kit Carson" on the Navajo Indian Reservation, invited one Charles Carson, grand-nephew of Kit and chairman of "Kit Carson Society," to visit the location. Mr. Carson, somewhat pompous of manner, strayed to the Reservation's trading post and attempted to strike up a conversation with one of the "braves." "My name's Carson," he announced. "The buck, a college graduate, eyed him gravely, then responded: "Just call me Sitting Bull!"

PREVIEW NIGHTS: "All This and Heaven Too" is an over-exposure of fine acting. If length rather than entertainment counts, the film's another "GWTW." Giggles of the week: "Popcorn-and-peanuts" boys shouting their wares among the fans gathered to see "ATAHT!" stars arrive. . . Film trade paper headline that tells the story about "Mortal Storm," another propaganda movie; "Finest of Nazi Pictures; Great In All Depts; B. O. Questionable". . . Sight for sore eyes: Nancy Kelly in "Private Affairs."

ONE MAN'S OPINION: If producers who scream that loss of foreign revenue will throw studios in real, can't earn profits from pictures made for 130,000,000 potential U. S. fans—then what this industry needs is new producers.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER KING'S SON

Young Frederick at right, trying to run away in company with a friend.

There was trouble in the palace of the Prussian king, Frederick William. He did not get along very well with the queen.

The king thought a man should live the life of a soldier. The queen, on the other hand, was interested in books, and believed in the politeness for which the French were noted. She knew the French language and spoke it all.

most as well as a Frenchwoman.

The king would have pardoned that in his wife, but he wanted his son to grow up like himself. We may feel sure he was not pleased when a French governess was chosen for little Prince Frederick.

The boy learned French, and seemed to like to speak it much better than German. He declared the German language was "dull." For years he called his French governess "mamma."

A Frenchman was chosen as "tutor" for the prince when he grew too old to be under the care of a governess. One of the things Frederick learned was how to play the flute.

The king did not put a stop to this until it was too late to keep the boy from liking the French language and French manners.

"Am I to have a French-speaking, flute-playing son?" he asked. "NO I will make a soldier of him."

At the age of 15, Prince Frederick was given training, and was allowed to ride at the head of a company of "tall boys," the soldiers his father had gathered from many parts of Europe.

"He must get English and French ways out of his head," said the king. "He must do just what I tell him to do."

The prince did not like the sudden change. He was angered by things his father said to him, and at length decided to run away.

At the age of 17, he left the palace in company with a friend. They boarded a waiting stage-coach, but were caught before they could go far.

"My son has tried to desert the army," stormed the king. "He shall be punished!"

Mayor Breaks Tie Vote to Purchase Truck for $1,295

Council Buys Fire Hose; Grants $950 for School Rewiring

Neenah — Mayor Edwin A. Kalfahs severed a 5-all deadlock on a vote for the purchase of a truck for the street department as the city council at a meeting last night at city hall purchased 300 feet of fire hose for the fire department and appropriated $950 to the board of education for rewiring work at the high school.

During its 3-hour session, the council authorized the installation of sidewalks on two streets and two street lights, voted to replace the forge at the city garage and authorized advertising for bids for a compressor for the garage, record files for the police department and cleaning and painting of the police station.

The aldermen also took steps to secure more parking space on the island by requesting the use of unoccupied Chicago and North Western railroad company property. While the fire hose was purchased from the Central Fire Hose company at 80 cents a foot without any opposition, two ballots were required before the 14 to 2-ton truck for the street department was purchased.

Alderman Carl Loehning, chairman of the committee on streets, sidewalks and bridges, reported that the majority of the committee favored the purchase of a GMC truck from the G. C. Faust Motor company, while the minority favored buying a Dodge truck. Alderman Richard O'Brien's motion that the minority report be accepted was defeated, 8 to 2, only he and Alderman Robert Marrens voting for the motion. The second motion favoring the majority report was deadlocked, 5-all. Aldermen Walter Buschey, John Heigl, Knud Larsen, Marrens and O'Brien opposing the motion. Aldermen Buschey, Heigl and Larsen were opposed to the purchase of any truck. The bids for both machines were identical, $1,295.

Suggest Rent Plan
Aldermen Heigl and Larsen contended that the city should rent trucks when they are needed, contending that at the rate of $1.25 an hour, the city couldn't operate trucks at that low costs and that large concerns, such as the Kimberly-Clark corporation, were renting trucks.

Aldermen Loehning emphatically pointed out that the trucks will be used for committee of public improvement work, such as sewers, sidewalks and curbs and gutters projects, and he told the aldermen that if they didn't get another truck, the street department will reserve the right not to let its truck out for that work when it is needed for street work.

The board of education appropriation was a carryover from the previous meeting at which time the council voted to give the money providing the board advertised for bids. Since then, however, the council and board met informally, it was explained last night, and it was pointed out that it was not advisable to advertise for bids because of the impossibility of drawing specifications for the work. Also, due to overload of current on wires at the school, the condition is increasingly dangerous.

Sidewalk Work
Sidewalks will be installed on the south side of Green street from Third to Fourth streets and on the south side of Washington avenue from Elm to Reed streets, while street lights will be installed at S. Harrison and Wilson streets and at the south entrance to the recreation center.

Because the forge at the garage was condemned by the fire insurance company, the council gave the street committee authority to replace it immediately.

Police Chief Irving Stilt appeared before the council and explained the need for files for police records, and the city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids. He also was instructed to advertise for bids for the compressor which will be used for tires and painting work at the garage.

The council voted to ask the railroad company for the use of its property on the west side of the track between N. Commercial street and the north and south sides of E. Forest avenue for parking space. It was reported by Chief Stilt and Aldermen Nash, who have been investigating parking conditions on the island, that store owners and clerks could use this space instead of parking their automobiles on the street where there is a limited amount of parking space available.

The council granted a permit to Mrs. Jesse Dennhardt to build a 4-apartment building on Caroline street.

BEAT ACTOR?

William Tate (above), 30, was arrested at a Hollywood golf club for allegedly attacking and severely beating Film Actor Richard Arlen, whom he accused of stealing his wife's love. Tate was booked on suspicion of extortion after Arlen told officers Tate had previously tried to collect $10,000 from him.

Gerhardt Charts Development of City Playground

Outlines Activities at Meeting of Neenah Lions Club

Neenah — The development of Neenah's summer playground program was outlined by Armin Gerhardt, Neenah high school instructor, who has been the supervisor for the last eleven years, in a talk at the noon meeting of the Neenah Lions Club Tuesday at the Valley Inn.

Comparing the activities on the playground program when Con. A. C. Denny and George Christoph got the program underway several years ago with today, Gerhardt asserted that there is no city in the state where activities on playgrounds have increased as much as in Neenah.

The supervisor also pointed out that Neenah's setup compares favorably and is even outstanding in program and costs with other cities in Wisconsin.

Discussing the playground budgets, Gerhardt said that 11 years ago, the budget amounted to only $800, while last year it totaled $2,079, out of which the city contributed $900 and citizens donated the rest.

He told the Lions that the committee asked for a budget of $2,400 this year, but it was cut to $2,000. He said that the committee is trying to get an increase, and if it succeeds, more activities will be added to the playground curriculum.

The supervisors outlined the new features on the playgrounds this summer, such as the airplane club and motion pictures, and he also charted the other playground activities.

Motion Pictures are Added to Playground Schedule at Neenah

Neenah — Motion pictures, a new feature on the summer playground program, will be shown to the children at 7:30 Thursday evening at the city hall auditorium, according to Armin Gerhardt, supervisor.

A 5-reel film, "Rex, the Devil Horse," and a comedy sketch, "Springtime with the Merry Dwarfs" will be shown. The films mainly are for youngsters in the elementary grades.

Playground supervisors will hold their weekly meeting at the city hall Friday night, and Walter Hauke will give a demonstration of kite building and flying.

Gerhardt reported that a large number of boys and girls attended the opening playground dance last evening at the Riverside park pavilion. Another dance will be held Tuesday night.

Council Demands Compliance With Roof Drain Ordinance

Neenah — Unless property owners cooperate with the city by having their roof drains disconnected from the sanitary sewer system and hooked up with the storm sewer system, the city ordinance compelling them to do so will be enforced, according to the warning voiced by Mayor Edwin A. Kalfahs and aldermen at a meeting of the city council last night at city hall.

The council again failed to reach any decision as to the purchase of a piece of Third ward property on River street which is owned by Mrs. Jesse Buck and which Third ward aldermen are seeking for a playground. An argument between the two Third ward aldermen, Richard O'Brien and Walter Buschey, and Alderman Carl Loehning from the Fifth ward, reached a high pitch over the matter.

The warning to enforce the ordinance unless property owners disconnect their drains from the sanitary sewers was the result of numerous complaints entered by the aldermen from persons whose basements were flooded by sewers backing up following the recent rains.

City Engineer A. C. Prunuske again explained to the aldermen that the sanitary sewerage system is unable to take care of the water during heavy rain storms and that it backs up into basements, particularly in areas where the ground is low.

Mayor Kalfahs said that city officials don't want to be harsh on property owners, but unless they cooperate, the ordinance would have to be enforced, for floods in basements, especially stores, has caused considerable amount of damage. He requested the engineer and the committee on public improvements to follow up on a recent survey to determine those who hadn't complied with recommendations.

Menasha Council Reaches Decision On New Fire Truck

6 to 4 Vote Settles Problem First Introduced In January

Menasha — The Menasha council decided to purchase a 1,000 gallon triple combination pumper fire truck from the Mack Fire Truck corporation, Allentown, Pa., by a 6 to 4 vote at the council session Tuesday night. The vote settled a problem which occupied numerous council sessions since Mayor W. H. Jensen first pointed out the need for a new truck at a council session Jan. 18 following the Tuchscherer building fire.

The council twice rejected all bids submitted, once after a five to five vote and again after Mayor W. H. Jensen vetoed purchase of an American LaFrance truck which had been approved by a 6 to 4 vote. The Mack bid, submitted at the June 4 council meeting, was $9,205.

Voting for the purchase were Aldermen Edward Zeininger, Patrick Keapock, John R. Scanlon, Edward Stinski, Walter O'Brien, and William DeBruin. The deciding vote was cast by Alderman DeBruin. Opposing the purchase were Aldermen Paul Laemmrich, Raymond J. Keefe, William Karrow, and John Pinkerton.

Edward Zeininger, chairman of the fire committee, introduced the motion to purchase the truck. On motion of John Scanlon the mayor, city attorney, city clerk, fire chief, and finance committee will meet with representatives of the Mack firm to discuss terms of the purchase.

Will Buy New Car

The council will purchase a new police squad car with bids returnable at the July 2 meeting. During February the council twice advertised for bids on a new squad car but rejected all of them each time. On recommendation of the board of public works, the council authorized curb and gutter construction on three streets under the WPA. They are Third street from Manitowoc to Konemac street, DePere street from Broad street to the river, and Paris street from DePere street east to Manitowoc street and then north to Broad street.

Petitions for four other curb and gutter installations were received. They are on First street from Tayco street to Lush street, on Railroad street from Abby avenue to Garfield avenue, Broad street from Kaukauna street to the government lot, and DePere street from Eighth to Ninth streets. Objections to the installation will be heard at a board of public works hearing at 7 o'clock July 2.

The council also voted to advertise for sale the city-owned house at the opening of Main street alley onto Broad street. Bids will be received at the July 2 meeting. The successful bidder will have to move the house off the property to make way for the street opening.

Arrangements for the opening of the municipal beach were made by the council. Alderman Keefe reported that from 100 to 150 children were at the beach Sunday. The park department crew under the supervision of Keefe and Keapock will prepare the park for opening and A. Magalski, Second street, has offered to act as caretaker in exchange for the concession permit.

Mayor Jensen insisted that the park department put a life guard on duty at the beach. He pointed out that the 1940 budget includes funds for two life guards. The mayor threatened to take supervision of the ball park, city dump, and municipal beach from the park department.

Keefe reported that he and Alderman Keapock contacted the contractor who is raising St. Patrick's school with reference to employing local labor. The contractor reported that two of his four men already are local men while by next week he will be using local help entirely.

City Attorney Edward C. McKenzie was authorized to revise the traffic code and consolidate all ordinances pertaining to the subject. The water and light department was instructed to install a street light on Emily street. The attorney was instructed to notify the St. Paul railroad to repair the Tayco street crossing leading to the Menasha Wood Split Pulley company. Alderman Edward Zeininger introduced the measures. Germania society requested permission to sell beer at the Fourth of July picnic at Jefferson park and was instructed to make formal application at the council session next week at which licenses will be acted upon.

Robert Ulrich was authorized to install 500 feet of sewer on Ninth street because the city crews will not be able to do the work this summer. The street department will install 130 feet of sewer on Lopus street. No action will be taken on the request of Frank Heckrodt for sewer on Cleveland street until commitments by previous councils are investigated.

"We'll be bankrupt if we follow the routines of past councils," the mayor warned. The Clovis plat in the Fourth ward was approved and the street department was instructed to cut a temporary street by extending Lincoln street to London street for the plat. Installation of sidewalk on the south side of Sixth street from Manitowoc street west as far as waivers are secured was authorized.

Truckers local labor union No. 563 protested against city employees who do other work during their days off. The union pointed out that it has no objection if the men are not receiving a living wage but added that there are local men who are out of work. The street committee will investigate the complaint and order city employees not to accept outside work.

Mrs. Charles Evans, Mrs. Harry Gibson and Mrs. Alicia Bart will be hostesses.

Merchants Will Oppose Oshkosh In Valley League

Seek First Victory in Four Starts Here Sunday Afternoon

Neenah—The Neenah Merchants still are seeking to enter the win column in the Fox River Valley league, and their opponent this Sunday will be the Oshkosh Cabs. The Neenah nine will tangle with the Oshkosh outfit at 2:15 in the afternoon at Washington park diamond.

The Merchants have lost four straight games, and the other two games which were rained out haven't been played off.

With the exception of the Menasha tilt which the Merchants lost, 7 to 1, the games have been tight battles. After losing the opener to the defending champions, Kimberly, 4 to 1, they dropped a 7 to 6 decision to the Appleton Red Sox and a 11 to 10 contest to the Appleton Gentrymen.

The Oshkosh nine, on the other hand, has played two games and won both of them. It defeated Menasha, 6 to 2, last Sunday.

Manager Bill Handler will assign either Dale Wahlers or Russell Menning to toe the rubber, while Gatzke will receive.

Highway Committee To Consider Another Plea for Road Funds

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh—The possibility of a second trip to Madison to confer with the state highway commission will be discussed tomorrow by the county highway committee at its semi-monthly meeting.

The committee went to Madison April 26 to meet with Governor Julius P. Heil and members of the state highway commission regarding securing of state highway funds for Winnebago county. They have not yet received any of the $180,000 credited to Winnebago county as its share of gasoline tax collections.

E. M. Bard, county highway commissioner, fears that unless some state aid is received for the road projects approved by the state, the county's highway maintenance may have to be reduced. He stated that the raising and grading of roads would keep the men busy for over a month but that he may have to reduce the force near the close of the season.

The Label infield will be shifted with Ben Stepanski succeeding Manager Bob Skalmoski at first, Douglas Anderson, V. DesJarlais, and V. Coopman will complete the infield.

The outfield will have H. Spice, R. Steinway, S. Hoks, and Manager Skalmoski. Roland O'Brien, an outfielder, has dropped from the Gold Label squad as he is working at Green Bay for the summer. He was hitting .353 and won two games for the Labels with timely hits.

Menasha to Show Population Gain

City May be Larger Than Neenah, Alderman Tells Council

Menasha—Menasha will show an increase in population over the 1930 census and may exceed the Neenah preliminary total of 10,616, according to information presented by Alderman Raymond J. Keefe at the council session Tuesday night.

Estimate of gain, according to preliminary reports from four wards show an increase of 1,544 persons over the 1930 total figure of $9,062. The first ward shows a gain of 74, the second ward 280, the third ward 380 and the fourth ward at least 800.

However, a preliminary estimate from the fifth ward may show a decrease of 300. Keefe cited numerous families in the fifth ward that have not been called on and declared that he is convinced that the ward has at least held its own if it did not show an increase during the last 10 years.

Keefe and Gordon Corry, who took the census in the second ward, went to Sheboygan today to assist district supervisors for a complete check of the fifth ward. "We want to beat the Neenah population," Keefe declared.

Wet Grounds Forces Baseball League to Postpone Contests

John Skalmoski will take the mound for the fourth ward with Kronschnabel doing the receiving. The second ward will base its efforts on the throwing of Len Schepferling with Al Kolinski catching.

In the afternoon the third ward will still be trying for its first victory when it opposes the fifth ward. V. Imenowski will pitch for the fifth ward with another pitcher, Donald Popp, doing the catching. Henry Osiewalski will pitch for the third ward and T. Calder will catch.

95 Children Attend Opening Art Classes At Kimberly School

Neenah—Attending the opening art classes at Kimberly school gymnasium Tuesday were 95 children ranging in age from 8 to 12 years according to Florence K. Oberbach, instructor.

The class will meet every Tuesday and Wednesday from 1:15 to 3:15 in the afternoon. Boys and girls from 12 to 18 years of age will meet at the same time on Thursday and Friday afternoons.

As in other years, articles made of wood are the predominant interest again for the youngsters, according to the supervisor, who also reported that bead work is attracting considerable attention from the children.

The instructor reported that this is the fifth year that the classes have been conducted, and last year's attendance totaled 185 boys and girls in 23 classes.

Those who can afford to pay 10 cents at registration are requested to do so, and this money will be used to purchase additional supplies for the classes, but the lack of a dime, however, will not prevent the children from taking part in the classes.

Cites Confidence In American Youth

Legion Head Says U. S. Will Rest in 'Sound Young Hands'

Delafield, Wis.—(17)—Complete confidence in the Americanism of the nation's youth was expressed last night by Raymond J. Kelly, Detroit, national commander of the American Legion.

"It is my contention," he said, "that the safety of the America we love will continue to rest in sound young hands."

The legion commander spoke to 500 Wisconsin boys at St. John's Military academy, where the American Legion is conducting its second annual Boys' State—a laboratory of citizenship for high school youths.

Kelly lashed at subversive and communist groups, declaring: "For six years the American Legion has attempted to outlaw, and to banish the communist party from the American political scene—or for that matter, any other allegedly domestic party whose headquarters and policy are of alien origin."

Those are aiming at those who seek to destroy the constitution... black shirts, brown shirts, red shirts or silver shirts—all who would destroy the constitutional safeguards for our individual liberties must have no place in American life."

Kelly outlined the Americanization program of the legion and complimented the intents and workings of boys' state as a method of teaching practical citizenship. He said that there now were 40 Boys' State camps attended by 30,000 boys.

Commissioners Ask 60-Day Open Season On Migratory Fowl

A total of 48 delegates, representing Missouri, Illinois, Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa attended the session.

I. T. Eide, Missouri state director of conservation, was elected president.

Winnebago County's Accident Toll Drops

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh—A sizeable decrease in the number of persons injured in auto accidents in Winnebago county during the first 15 days of June was noted yesterday by Floyd L. Wright of the county safety committee. The accident record so far this month is 23 accidents, in which seven persons have been injured, compared to 22 accidents and 14 injured in the same period last year.

Since January 1 six persons have been killed in 233 accidents in which 130 were injured, while last year in 261 accidents only one person was killed and 125 injured. The number of cars damaged for both years through June 15 was the same, 378 cars.

Oshkosh Man Seeks Sheriff's Position

Oshkosh—A seventh candidate entered the race for sheriff of Winnebago county when he took out his nomination papers yesterday. He is Oakley Colby, Oshkosh, seeking the Republican nomination. Other candidates running for sheriff are Undersheriff Harry Krippner, Captain Julius G. Holtz of the county motorcycle police, former Sheriff Arthur L. Nelson, Supervisor Joseph Cater, Joe Binder, and Carl Esslinger, the latter from Omro. All but Cater, who is running as a Democrat, seek the Republican nomination.

Pegler Reports That Guild Trojan Horse Has Trojan Foal

New York—Word comes that in Joseph Stalin's Moscow stables a Trojan foal has been born to his Trojan horse in the American Newspaper Guild.

The present Trojan plug is the New York guild, which promotes the Communist party line at the political and economic expense of American newspaper workers in New York and other cities. This New York communist cell dominates the national organization.

Since the first of the year the American members of the guild as distinguished from the communists and fellow-travelers, have organized local rebellions in New York, Washington and Seattle. These rebellious, patriotic groups appear not to be organized into a unit, but are united in spirit and motives in their opposition to the communist controlled minority.

The New York anti-communists call themselves the progressives, and they have been turning out, at their private expense, a publication identifying some of the communists and revealing the cunning of the Moscow system of rigging elections.

The Communists attempted to discredit the New York progressives with the old, reliable charge of red-baiting, but failed to silence them. On the contrary, the opposition and resentment have been growing, but with the faithful, Stalinist guild of Los Angeles supporting their communist comrades in New York. The Los Angeles guild is notoriously communist.

Finally, on June 1, the Guild Reporter, which has been consistently and abusively communist, and the mouthpiece of the controlling group in its propaganda against the American element, was forced to admit the existence of their rebellion. But instead of emphasizing the opposition of the anti-communist, or patriotic newspaper workers, the Guild Reporter tried to make the guild members believe that the principal opposition came from a group centered in Philadelphia which includes a number of diligent guild politicians who have never objected to communist control.

The Philadelphia rebel group, led by Max Ways, issued a long statement of the reasons for its rebellion against the New York rulers of the guild which, on superficial reading, might deceive the anti-communist majority. However, on careful inspection it is observed that the Philadelphia or Max Ways rebels do not object to the pursuit of the communist party line. On the contrary, the statement of its position says:

Ways Says Nothing Wrong With Policies "There is nothing wrong with the fundamental guild policies. Many of those who sign this statement had quite as much to do with the establishment of those policies as did the individuals who now compose the paid leadership."

The fundamental policies are not stated in this document, but the policies to which the American rebel groups have objected were sympathetic with the Moscow line.

In other words, the communist Trojan horse has produced another Trojan horse to confuse the American opposition and capture the political strength lost by the old reform in the national convention in Memphis in July.

Ways' political sympathies are not stated beyond the admission that his group has no objection to the fundamental guild policies, but, as he says, some of his helpers in the attempt to confuse the issue and scatter

Jaces to Sponsor Outing in August

Neenah Junior Chamber Plans for Employer-employee Picnic

Neenah—A retail employer-employee picnic, which will be held in August, was planned by the board of directors of the Neenah Junior Chamber of Commerce at a meeting last night at the home of Donald Colburn.

The committee which will be in charge of the outing consists of Harmon McCarthy, chairman, Charles Larson, Milton H. Boehm, S. A. Sommer, Herbert Kruse, F. L. Springer and Colburn.

The outing will be sponsored by the Neenah Jaces and employers will be requested to close their stores and offices early on the afternoon of the picnic.

The board elected Boehm secretary of the organization to succeed Leo A. Kofarnus, who has resigned.

Plans for a Jaces picnic for members only in July were outlined. The auxiliary outing Thursday evening at Frank Stroebe's island will take the place of the regular monthly meeting.

The effect of this is that the anti-communists are likely to believe, unless they carefully study the position of the Ways group, that this anti-body represents the real rebellion against communist control. In that event if the New York communists were turned out they might be succeeded in equal or greater power by another national management differing only in personnel and in minor, international issues. Moscow still runs the American Newspaper Guild.

The progressive, or American, rebellion is directed against communism in the control and policies of an organization which is trying to obtain the power of censorship over the entire American press. Communism is the big issue with them. The Ways group, which is played up in the Guild Reporter as the big opposition, is not opposed to communist control or communist policies.

Political Parties Must Adapt Selves to New World Conditions

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

Washington—One look at the newspaper photograph of the Nazi flag flying from the Arc de Triomphe in Paris should be sufficient to stamp upon the dullest mind the fact that we are already in a new and uncharted world. The question is whether our political parties will be able to adapt themselves quickly to the many changes that confront us.

We face a different environment. Perhaps tomorrow the naval strength of the axis will be greater than Britain's. The continent of Europe, a huge consuming market for agricultural products from this hemisphere, now is under the domination of an entirely different kind of political and economic system from the one to which we have been accustomed. Under it international trade is managed by the state, not by private individuals or corporations. International trade becomes part of national policy. In a large part of the world, the totalitarian method is in control. The practice of free economy has been narrowed down chiefly to this hemisphere. That makes us something of a minority stockholder among powers which operate by different political and economic methods which we distrust.

In nature, the animal which survives is the one which adapts itself most quickly to its environment. The dinosaur was too slow and clumsy to live among more agile animals. England and France found it difficult to change. France went to sleep behind the Maginot line, not realizing that its methods of warfare had become obsolete. Britain now is facing the consequences of her complacency and her inability to break from the iron grip of tradition.

Both political parties could well forget everything they have ever put into a campaign platform. This is the moment to break the clutches of the dead past, to quit looking back over our shoulders, and to face the future, free of old inhibitions, alert to take advantage of opportunities. Democracy will live only if it keeps young, flexible, adaptable.

American politics is dangerously ridden with the ossified mentality of the old-fashioned Republican who, after hearing Wendell Willkie speak recently, said, "he sounds like a mighty smart man but as far as I am concerned he is just a free-trade Democrat."

Republicans Must Recognize Changes in Trade Conditions

Republicans fought the Hull reciprocal trade program. Many of them think that we can shove our tariff walls up to the stratosphere and not suffer. Are they going to recognize now that we face the most ruthless competition for foreign markets, in which the individual American business man would be pitted hopelessly against whole nations using foreign trade as a major economic weapon? Are they going to realize that a small Latin American nation, subsisting on one major crop, will be at the mercy of
